

CRIME IN ALABAMA

POPULAR RULE,
SAYS CALLOWAY

State's Power Threatened Unless They More Effectively Enforce Law.

AUGUSTA JUDGE ADDRESSES

ALUMNI AT ATHENS

Tells Them That the Trouble Is Too Much "Democracy in the Government," and That Georgia Has More Murders Annually Than All of England.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Declaring, in substance, that unless the federal states developed power to suppress crime and enforce law approximately to that shown by the federal government, that popular rule in America was threatened, Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta, today delivered, before the Alumni Society of the University of Georgia, a powerful address based on the specific theme, "Local Self-Government."

In many respects, Judge Callaway's oration was one of the most eloquent of the annual alumni addresses delivered here in recent years.

He challenged the efficacy of the governmental procedure that has prevailed since the founding of federal and state form of government. He stated that the states were suffering from an overdose of "democracy in government," that the efficiency of their institutions was threatened for the reason that prejudices and passions rather than sober judgment were expressed through too many popular elections.

Judge Callaway compared criminal conditions in this country with those in Europe, showing the enormous excess of homicides and law violations in America.

In the case of Georgia, which he designated a typical American state, he cited an authority showing that Georgia's annual homicide roll of 45 was more than the entire murder roll of England.

In closing, Judge Callaway appealed to the people to wake up to the menace put upon their institutions by defiance of law and inability of the courts to convict.

The Address.

The address, in part, is as follows: "While the prevalence of lawlessness and crime in all sections of our country is deplorable, the existence of mob law in the north and west does not make it less heinous in the south. As for this section we have the greatest concern, it seems that it would be the wiser course to uncover and expose our own weakness and shortcomings to the end that they may be corrected, our state governments strengthened, and that the lives, liberty and property of our people be adequately and impartially protected by a strong local government administered by our own people, and not by strangers armed with commissions from a central national government."

"How is human life protected in Georgia? The following article appeared in a recent issue of the 'Literary Digest' copied from 'The World Today,' of Chicago, Mr. Hugh C. Weil being credited as the author: "Ten thousand persons are murdered in this country every year—shot, strangled, poisoned, stabbed, or beaten with a club or sandbag. Of the murders, 2 in every 100 are purchased. The remaining 98 escape absolutely free! In many of our states, the proportion of convictions is only half as great. In Georgia, for instance, only 1 murderer in every 100 is punished. In a recent census of American crime, digesting the nation as a whole, the statement was made that in 13 per cent of our homicides do we secure a conviction."

Record for Georgia. "Chicago averages 118 murders in a year. In the same period, the records only 15 murders and attempted murders. In the course of twelve months, Georgia—a typical example of the average American state—records 45 homicides, more than the whole of the British empire. More people are murdered in this country in a year than are killed on the railroads. In three years, the victims of our murder cases total more than the losses of the British army in the Boer war."

"And now we discover that when our poets and our orators and our artists have finished telling of our greatness and our glory, we have fostered wickedness and lawlessness as no other nation in the world; that behind our boasted institutions of government, the thug and the thief and the assassin are operating with a vigor and a freedom duplicated nowhere else in civilization. And our crime and wickedness are steadily increasing."

More Murders Today.

"There are four and a half times as many murders for every million of our population today as there were twenty years ago!"

"The significant fact about it all is that the rest of the world does not share these statistics. Our increased wickedness is confined to our own borders. In the march of civilization as applied to the protection of public life and public property, we have fallen woefully behind. We may lead the globe in many things. We assuredly lead it in crime. In 35 per cent of the homicides of Germany the guilty person is brought to justice. In Spain, the number of convictions is 85 per cent of the total number of crimes. In France it is 61 per cent; in Italy 77 per cent; in England 50 per cent. Do these facts—when offset against our two convictions in every 100 murders—explain why our lawlessness is increasing; why we have more homicides every year than Italy, Austria, France, Belgium, England, Ireland, Scotland, Spain, Hungary, Holland and Germany combined?"

BEAUTIFUL AMERICAN
MURDERED IN ITALY

MRS. MARY SCOTT CASTLE CHARLTON.

NO TRACE FOUND
OF MISSING MAN

Murder Mystery of Italian Lake Still Unraveled.

The Italian Police Are Bending Every Effort to the Tracing of Charlton's Course to the Time of His Disappearance. Letters Sent Russian.

Como, Italy, June 14.—Although the police authorities have sent out requests to the authorities at various points to watch for a man answering the description of Porter Charlton, the search of Lake Como, where the body of Charlton's wife was found in a trunk a few days ago, has not been abandoned. Nothing was discovered today, however, to give the slightest clue to the whereabouts of the missing man or to strengthen the theory that he also was murdered.

It has been learned that Charlton was on June 6, to the Russian Isola, who is under arrest, that he and his wife were leaving for the Riviera. On that afternoon he went to the post-office and made inquiries with reference to steamers leaving for America. He posted a letter addressed to Isola, without a stamp. This is taken as an indication that he was exceedingly agitated. It was on the evening of the same day that he questioned a fisherman, near the spot where the trunk was found, as to the depth of the lake.

A traveler who left here for Basel, Switzerland, on the day the crime was discovered, has reported to the police that a passenger in the carriage on which he traveled answered the description of Charlton. Efforts have been made to locate this man, but so far without result.

REGULATIONS ARE PUT ON NEAR BEER SALOONS

Dealers Cannot Sell to White and Black From Same Counter.

With just a quorum present, the board of police commissioners held a very quiet monthly session last night, giving attention to a number of matters of interest to the conduct of the department.

Chief Jennings asked for money sufficient to put the station house in a better sanitary condition. The chief said the plumbing was in a miserable condition at present, and at least $1,000 would be needed to make the necessary repairs. The request was referred to the proper committee.

Mixed patronage in near beer saloons of whites and blacks was discussed, with the result that the board adopted a resolution of the chief asking council to put a ban on saloonists selling their beverage to both races from the same counter.

The board voted to feed the tracking hounds of Detective Sergeant Lanford, to be kept at the police barracks for use in capturing desperate characters. These dogs are the personal property of the sergeant.

A petition signed by thirty or forty citizens living on South Boulevard and contiguous streets in the vicinity of Grant park and White City, asking that special men be detailed to rid that section of an oversupply of tough characters, was referred to the chief with power to act.

ROME TO CONSIDER
ANOTHER BOND ISSUE

Probable That an Election Will Be Called Some Time in August.

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—There will be immediate action in regard to another bond issue for public improvements and it is probable that a bond election will be called for August. This important development became known at the meeting of the city council Monday night following the presentation of a resolution from the Manufacturers' Association calling upon the council to take some steps for further municipal improvements.

According to a resolution by Alderman Powers passed unanimously, Mayor Hancock will name a committee, composed of four citizens from each ward of members of the city council and board of public works and of members of the Manufacturers and Merchants' Association. This committee will thoroughly investigate the bond situation and will report its findings to the council.

M'NAUGHTON HELD ON POISON CHARGE
IN RICHMOND JAIL

Physician Is Accused of Murder of Fred Flanders, of Emanuel Co.

FEAR LYNCHING IF HE IS TAKEN TO SWAINSBORO

Coroner's Jury Charges Dr. McNaughton Poisoned Flanders With Arsenic, and That It Was Done With the Consent and Knowledge of the Wife of the Deceased.

Augusta, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Dr. W. J. McNaughton, who is charged with poisoning Fred Flanders, of Swainsboro, who died on June 4, was captured in the suburbs of this city tonight and placed in the Richmond county jail. He will be held here, it being known that feeling runs high at Swainsboro, and that it would be difficult to prevent a lynching should he be taken to that place in the next day or two.

From the residence of Dr. A. B. McNaughton, brother of the prisoner, it was learned that Dr. W. J. McNaughton had surrendered himself to County Officer Whittle, although he had previously barricaded himself in a house, so it is claimed, and intended to resist arrest.

Information is received from Swainsboro that the coroner's jury met today, rendering a verdict accusing McNaughton of murder.

Story of Crime.

Swainsboro, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—In the criminal annals of Emanuel county no crime so heinous in its nature is recorded than that of which Dr. W. J. McNaughton and Mrs. Fred Flanders are charged with perpetrating, ten miles from Swainsboro. In a little vine-clad cottage, dwelt in apparently peace Mr. and Mrs. Flanders. The couple had two children, and their home was a rendezvous to all the neighbors in search of a pleasant social hour. Boarding with this couple was Dr. W. J. McNaughton, friend and adviser of husband and wife, and respected medical practitioner of the neighborhood for several months.

Rumors at first in an undertone began to circulate in which Dr. McNaughton's attention to Mrs. Flanders figured. These reports brewed, as reports will, until they finally reached the husband's ears. Loyal husband that he was, he discredited these reports and assured his wife of his utmost confidence in her.

About two months ago Mr. Flanders, having sold one of his farms, he decided to invest the proceeds in a sawmill at Thomsville, to remove there. The household goods and the apparel of self and wife had been packed and shipped, when he was suddenly taken violently ill. Dr. McNaughton was summoned to his bedside. He pronounced the trouble as acute nephritis, and his condition was quite serious.

For two weeks he remained ill, gradually growing worse. Dr. McNaughton continued to be the only attending physician and Mrs. Flanders the only nurse. On June 4 he died and his body was interred at Kemp on Sunday, his wife appearing at the funeral heavily veiled.

On Monday Mrs. Flanders, accompanied by Dr. McNaughton, came to Swainsboro and applied for letters of administration of the estate of the deceased. The reports which had been circulated on the soft pedal before the husband died now broke forth with new vigor, accompanied by the expressed belief of many that the dead man had been foully dealt with.

Autopsy Held.

On Tuesday these rumors burst out in a violent ebullition. The dead man's body disinterred and an autopsy held. Magistrate J. F. Sutton acted as coroner and a jury was impaneled. Drs. Smith and Chandler removed the dead man's stomach and it was sent to Atlanta for analysis of the state chemist, the verdict of the jury being suspended until today, when the chemist's report was received.

The jury rendered the following verdict: "We find that the deceased came to his death not from natural causes, but from the circumstances and evidence produced to us, we are led to believe that he was poisoned with arsenic and circumstances and the evidence points to Dr. W. J. McNaughton as the one who administered it, and that it was done with the knowledge and consent of Mrs. Mattie Flanders."

Mrs. Flanders still stubbornly maintains that she knew nothing of any poison being administered to her husband.

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY

Washington, June 14.—The conference report on the railroad bill was presented to both the senate and the house today.

During its session the senate divided its attention between the public land withdrawal bill and Senator Owens' motion to discharge the committee on privileges and elections from further consideration of the resolution providing for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people. Action was taken upon neither of these measures.

Speeches against the administration conservation policy were made by Senators Hughes, of Colorado, and Heyburn, of Idaho.

COMMENCEMENT!

JOSEPH W. FOLK
SPEAKS SUNDAY

Former Gov. of Missouri
Coming to Grand.

His Appearance in Atlanta Will Be in the Interests of the Tabernacle Institutional Church—Ex-Gov. Smith Will Also Make an Address.

Joseph W. Folk, formerly governor of Missouri and a possible democratic nominee for president in 1912, will speak at the Grand Opera House Sunday afternoon in the interest of the Tabernacle Institutional church. His address will mark the close of the campaign for this institution, which has been so vigorously waged for the past three weeks.

JOSEPH W. FOLK,
Who Speaks at the Grand on Sunday.

Governor Folk comes to this city at the urgent request of Dr. Len G. Broughton, Governor Joseph M. Brown, Hon. Hoke Smith and the entire press of the city. So pressing were the invitations sent Mr. Folk that he felt constrained to cancel more than one other engagement in order to come to Atlanta at this time.

At the Grand Opera House Sunday afternoon ex-Governor Hoke Smith will precede Governor Folk in an address, in which he will set out the benefits to Atlanta and to the state-at-large which may be expected to result from the work of the Tabernacle Institutional church.

Governor Folk is a remarkable man, who has had a most brilliant career. Though still comparatively a young man, he has a nation-wide acquaintance and clientele. His reputation for reform work in St. Louis first brought him into the limelight. Following this Missouri said that he must be her governor. He is now being spoken of in connection with Judson Harmon, of Ohio, as democratic presidential timbers.

He comes from the famous Folk family of Tennessee, all of whom are Baptists. His brother, Reau Folk, is treasurer and insurance commissioner of Tennessee. Another brother, Edgar E. Folk, is one of the foremost temperance workers of that state.

GOOD ROADS CHAUFFEUR
ARRESTED BY HIS WIFE

New York, June 14.—(Special.)—Clarence Stevenson, driver of a car in the good roads tour from Atlanta, got an unexpected reception yesterday on Broadway from his wife and a brawny policeman as he was the head of the parade reached Forty-second street. He was yanked from his seat and taken to the station house.

After an uncomfortable night in his dust-laden chauffeur togs, Stevenson was arraigned before Magistrate House, charged with abandoning Helen Wall Cayvan, the former musical comedy soubrette, whom he married three years ago, and their two-year-old daughter, Muriel.

Magistrate House listened to the former actress' story of how Stevenson sought an acquaintance in Montgomery, Ala., when her show played there, how he left his wealthy mother and father and followed the troupe, how she finally married him in New York, after a tempestuous courtship.

"It's another case of too much mother-in-law, only this time it's a woman that makes the complaint," declared pretty little Mrs. Stevenson. "Clarence has been tied to his mother's apron strings and is now running her auto. They didn't fancy me, and finally Clarence cast me off. I am without support."

Magistrate House directed the young man to pay his wife and child $7 a week.

"OLD DARKY" ON HIS WAY TO NURSE EX-GOV. CANDLER

Did anyone see an old-fashioned, aged, crippled, very much bewildered negro hobbling about the streets of Atlanta yesterday?

John Odom, an old ex-slave of Thomas J. Williams, and protégé of Ex-Governor Allen D. Candler, was due to arrive here for a visit to his "ole massa," and since he has failed to put in an appearance, it is feared that he has lost his way.

Many years ago when Mr. Candler had a severe attack of the measles the old darky nursed him through it with all the care and solicitude of a trained nurse. Since then he has had great confidence in his nursing abilities and has felt that the preservation of Mr. Candler's health was a charge which naturally devolved entirely upon him alone.

In consequence when Odom heard of the ex-governor's late illness he determined to pack up at once and nurse him back to health. Mrs. Candler received word from her father's plantation at Haddock, Ga., where Odom has been living, notifying her that the faithful darky was on his way. A sharp lookout was kept for him all day Tuesday, but he failed to appear. As he is about 70 years old and has never been in Atlanta before, it is feared that he has lost his way, although, of course, he may have been delayed in starting.

If Odom finally arrives he will find that he has less to do than he had expected, for Mr. Candler's condition has improved so rapidly of late that he is already up and about the house. In fact, he feels so well that he is determined to make a trip to the capitol next week.

GOV. HASKELL OFFERS TO KICK
SHERIFF OUT OF HIS OFFICE

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 14.—

Deputy United States Marshal Chris Madison, of Guthrie, tonight served a citation on Governor Haskell to appear in the federal court to show cause why he should attempt to remove the state capital from Guthrie.

Last night Deputy United States Marshal Heck Thomas was repulsed by the governor because of his attitude. The governor had snatched a subpoena from the hand of Sheriff Mahoney of Logan county.

EX-GOV. SMITH DELIVERS
LECTURE AT JACKSON

Before a Large Audience He Spoke on "Dixie During the Sixties."

Jackson, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Ex-Governor Hoke Smith was the feature of Jackson chautauqua today. He arrived in the city in the morning and was met by a large crowd at the depot. A committee consisting of T. H. Buttrill, W. R. Carmichael, F. S. Etheridge, J. H. Carmichael, J. E. Woods, A. H. Carmichael, H. L. Daughtry, J. B. Settle, R. J. Carmichael and W. J. Wood was appointed to meet him.

Mr. Smith was introduced to the audience by Mayor J. H. M. Fletcher, of Jackson, and delivered his lecture, "Dixie During the Sixties."

During his stay in the city Mr. Smith was entertained by T. H. Buttrill, president of the chamber of commerce.

According to Thomas, the governor said:

"I don't care who you are; I am the governor of Oklahoma. Get out of here, or I will kick you downstairs."

Guards are stationed about the state-house to prevent the removal of records or other state property. Labor Commissioner Daugherty was searched today for state papers before being allowed to leave the city. Mayor Farquharson said tonight that he had given no orders for the search, and regarded the act as censurable.

SOUTHERN TRAINMEN
MEET IN WASHINGTON

Association Will Consider the Working Conditions on the Railroads in the South.

Washington, June 14.—The Southern Association of General Committees of Railroad Conductors and Trainmen began a conference here today for the purpose of discussing working conditions with southern railroads. The conference was organized today and will continue throughout the week.

R. W. Moore is the chairman of the conference. Other officers present are H. Dickinson, chairman of the southern association; E. P. Curtis, vice president of the Order of Railway Conductors; and Valentine Fitzpatrick, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

SENATE TODAY
GETS TO WORK ON RAIL BILL

Conference Report Presented to Both Branches of Congress.

REPORT FOLLOWS CLOSELY
LINES OF THE HOUSE BILL

Number of Amendments Secured by Insurgent Senators Retained by Conferees in Report Presented to Senate and House—Carries Most Features of Original Measure.

Washington, June 14.—The conference report on the administration railroad bill was presented to the senate at 1:30 o'clock today by Chairman Elkins, of the senate committee on interstate commerce. It was laid before the house late in the day, but under the rules it cannot be acted upon by the house until disposed of by the senate.

It represented one week's work by conferees of the senate and house in an effort to harmonize the differences in the bill passed by the two branches of congress, and nearly four months continuous consideration in one or the other of the two branches of congress. At the request of several senators the report went over until tomorrow, when an effort will be made to procure its adoption.

The two democratic conferees did not sign the report and Senator Newlands gave notice today that he would present a minority report.

Generally speaking, the finished work of the conferees is declared to be satisfactory to the senate, although in large part it follows the lines of the house bill. A number of the amendments secured by "insurgent" republicans, however, were retained by the conferees. So far as has been indicated, the only objection which may be raised in the senate to the adoption of the report relates to the action of the conferees in adopting the house provision on the subject of long and short hauls.

The last amendment disposed of by the conferees was that relating to the period for which increases in rates might be suspended by the commission. The conferees accepted the senate provision of ten months.

Changes in Original Measure.

As finally perfected by the conferees, the bill carries most of the features of the original administration measure, except the sections which provide for the making of pooling agreements, to authorize the government to regulate the issuance of stocks and bonds and to permit a railroad to purchase the remaining stock of another line which it already controls 50 per cent of the stock. So much opposition developed in both houses against these provisions that they were abandoned outright. The conferees incorporated a provision authorizing the president to appoint a commission to investigate questions pertaining to the issuance of stocks and bonds by railroads. Expenditures by the commission are limited to $25,000 and it was not given authority to summon witnesses or to compel the production of books and papers. No time was fixed for the making of a report.

Section of Five Judges.

The bill as perfected, therefore, and as likely to become law, would create a commerce court composed of five judges, the first of whom are to be selected by the president and there-

Hoist By His Own Petard

H. T. O'Shields, Candidate for Sheriff, Completely Submerged in Ditch of His Own Digging.—Inquest Will Be Held on the Afternoon of August 23, Provided the Remains "Keep" Until That Time.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 13, 1916.

Hon. C. W. Mangum, Sheriff, City.

Dear Sir: I notice in this afternoon's Georgian that Mr. H. T. O'Shields has seen fit to call the publication of a card which I wrote the card, which was published at his expense in the Georgian Saturday. After that paper had been on the streets some time one of O'Shields' men called me up and asked if I was going to still support the O'Shields ticket. I TOLD HIM I COULD NOT. Now, the note that Mr. O'Shields published was of several days prior to my card to my friends supporting Mangum, and after that note, up to the time I published the card supporting Mr. Mangum, several things developed that made me change my mind, which I had a perfect right to do. I am for you for re-election as sheriff, and will do all I can for you. I hope and BELIEVE that you will be ELECTED. LARGER VOTE THAN BOTH OUR OPPONENTS RECEIVE.

Yours truly,
W. R. JOHNSON.

THE ORIGINAL COPIES OF MR. JOHNSON'S LETTERS, WITH DATES OF SAME, ARE IN MY POSSESSION, AND CAN BE SEEN BY ANYONE INTERESTED.

As I have no desire to exult over the vanquished or ammunition to waste on decoys, I shall dismiss this matter as a closed incident, at least for the present.

after by the chief justice of the preme court.

This court will have jurisdiction of all suits brought to enforce of set aside orders of the interstate commerce commission. In other words, it would centralize the existing authority and jurisdiction of circuit courts in matters affecting interstate commerce.

Other sections would enlarge the power of the commission over railroad regulations and practices and place under the jurisdiction of the commission, telegraph, telephone and cable companies, whether wire or wireless, and would broaden the scope of the word railroad so as to extend the jurisdiction of the commission over bridges, ferries and terminal facilities. This extension of power is regarded as of the utmost importance.

General provisions are made affecting railroads to compel them to furnish rates upon application and to authorize the commission to institute inquiries on its own motion. By provisions adopted by the house and retained by the conferees the scope of the commission to make regulations was enlarged. It is also provided that a consignor of freight shall have the right to designate by which of two or more through routes his property shall be transported to destination.

BRIBERY STORY BROUGHT $3,250

Chicago, June 14.—The expulsion of two spectators from the trial of State Representative Lee O'Neil Browne, charged with paying $1,000 to Representative Charles A. White to vote for William Lorimer for United States senator, today gave emphasis to State's attorney Wayne's declaration that the would prevent any possibility for undue influence to reach the jury.

The men removed were Ernest Krulwich, a Chicago politician, and Hy Wagner. The latter owes his embarrassment to having made audible expressions of a belief in the guilt of the defendant. Mr. Wayne said that during the trial of "Skinny" Madden, a labor leader, charged with extortion, Krulwich had brought suspicion on himself by shaking hands with Madden in front of the jury. Krulwich was served with a subpoena to appear before the grand jury tomorrow.

Attack on White. The defense, on cross-examination, began an attack on the character of White, with the ultimate design, it is said, of charging that the present allegations grew out of an unsuccessful blackmailing scheme of White's. White introduced some of White's letters written to Browne, W. S. Forest, chief of counsel for the defendant, ran against a snag. The court ruled that before they could be accepted as evidence White must first identify the letters. White's evasive replies visibly nettled Browne's attorneys.

Eventually, two letters were identified. In one of them, written subsequently to the election of Senator Lorimer, White said:

"I have only 90 cents in the world. If you will fill in the inclosed promissory note for whatever money you will loan me, I will be glad." The note, made out for $50, also was placed in evidence. Other notes aggregating $100 were also introduced.

Some of the expressions used in letters which the defense attempted to introduce were:

"By the grace of God every cent you have let me have I will return."

"I have my ring in pawn for a few dollars."

"The future is sure to bring surprises. Do not be surprised at anything I may do in the future."

Attempt to Blackmail. By this expression it will be argued that White was attempting to blackmail Browne.

A letter written by White to Senator Lorimer was likewise read to the jury. White wrote that he was about to place his experiences as a legislator before the public. He said he had been offered $250 a week for it.

Mr. Forest asked him if he had submitted his story to certain magazines, which he named. Witness admitted that he had.

"Did you offer it to The Chicago Tribune?"

"Yes, sir."

"White produced his contract by which The Tribune agreed to pay him $3,250 for his story of the alleged bribery. Part of this sum, White said, had already been paid him."

The cross-examination is expected to continue all day tomorrow.

SAFEGUARD BILLS BY LEGISLATION

New York Financiers Indorse Stevens Bill.

Believing That Recent Frauds Have Shaken Confidence in Bills of Lading, Financial Interests Demand Legislation. Prominent Bankers Act.

New York, June 14.—Acting in the belief that the recent frauds in bills of lading estimated to run into the millions have shaken the confidence of credit institutions in the validity of these instruments that the movement of crops this fall is seriously threatened, steps were taken today by strong financial interests in conference to demand legislation that will safeguard these securities. The passage of the Stevens bill pending before the national senate, which makes railroads responsible for bills of lading issued by their agents, is the chief remedy sought.

Lewis F. Pierson, president of the American Bankers' Association, officers of five local banks, representatives of the chamber of commerce, the New York cotton exchange and foreign and interior bankers, attended the conference.

Mr. Pierson said after the conference that bankers everywhere had determined to curtail loans on bills of lading until the carriers are made responsible. When it is read so that all of the crops are financed by means of bills of lading, he added, the gravity of the situation is apparent.

GLIDDEN TOUR NOW UNDER WAY

Thirty Cars Started From Cincinnati Tuesday.

Louisville, Ky., June 14.—The breaking of a right front wheel of the Cole Thirty car was the most serious accident experienced by any of the contestants in the Glidden tour from Cincinnati to Louisville today. This accident occurred thirteen miles from Louisville, when the driver, A. R. Martin, tried to avoid a buggy. The car was penalized 1,042 points.

Seven other cars contesting for the Glidden and Chicago trophies were penalized for minor acts.

The 162 miles between Cincinnati and Louisville were covered in nine hours and forty-two minutes.

The contestants will start tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock for Nashville on a run of 193 miles.

The first reported accident of the tour occurred near Jatts Station, east of here, when a horse, attached to a survey and occupied by Mrs. Maria Hedrick and her son, ran away. Mrs. Hedrick was thrown out, sustaining a fractured skull.

She was picked up unconscious and brought here by the "Cincinnati 40" car, which was following the auto that caused the accident. Her son says the car that caused the runaway was a blue one and that the occupants did not stop on seeing what had happened.

HAMILTON LAUDED BY GLENN CURTISS

Greatest Flier in World, Says Inventor.

Train Dispatchers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Reported Hamilton in His Entire Flight as "Extra No. 1"—That Famous Glide.

New York, June 14.—As Charles K. Hamilton, the diminutive, red-thatched man-bird, flew over the stations of the Pennsylvania railroad yesterday, in his flight to Philadelphia and return, the operator at each station, upon catching sight of the biplane, rushed back to his key and sent this message to the chief dispatcher of the railroad in Jersey City:

"Extra No. 1, O. S. (on sight)." For Hamilton not only covered the distance between New York and Philadelphia in less time than is taken by any other mode of transportation, but he also had the novel distinction of being considered as an "extra" of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Not the least amazing thing about Hamilton's flight is the fact that this young aviator, of whom Glenn H. Curtiss ungrudgingly says: "He is the best flier in the world, I think," made his first flight in a real airplane on November 25, last.

Flight Up Broadway. Speaking tonight of an exhibition flight which he proposed to make for New Yorkers, Charles K. Hamilton said:

"I'll guarantee to fly up Broadway from the Battery to Harlem at a height not exceeding 30 feet except where I have to go over the 'L' or some obstruction like that. There's plenty of room between the building lines of Broadway for my biplane, and I'll make the whole trip just clearing the trolley cars. The two rivers make this city almost an ideal place in which to fly, for it isn't much of a trick to strike water when one has to, if water is only near enough at hand."

Mothers: Use Common Sense.

Mothers should use more common sense in rearing their babies. They have a tendency to run to the doctor every time the baby cries, is peevish, colicky, constipated or has pains. They should realize that if they correct the stomach and bowels, Nature will do the rest.

Don't "dope" the baby with soothing syrup. They do not remove the cause. All they do is quiet the pain temporarily. Try the following simple home prescription, which will help the baby and save a big doctor's bill. It is harmless; cannot hurt the most delicate baby, and will sweeten the stomach and correct the bowels. The pain will disappear like magic, as soon as the cause is removed, while you will have an unconscious child with harmful patent medicines or drugs. Here is the best thing I have ever used: To a half-cup of water add one-fourth cup of granulated sugar; heat until sugar is dissolved; let stand until cool; then add one ounce Medoflor. You will find this an inexpensive and valuable remedy to keep in the home.

WRIGHTS LOSE IN HIGH COURT

Curtiss and Paulhan Injunctions Dissolved.

New York, June 14.—Orville and Wilbur Wright lost a point today in their court fight to protect the patents covering their aeroplane from alleged infringements by Glenn H. Curtiss and Louis Paulhan, the French aviator. A unanimous decision of the United States court of appeals vacated the temporary injunction obtained by the Wright Company against Paulhan and the Herring-Curtiss Company, pending the suit which will determine whether there is any infringement in fact.

The decision cites that the only question involved is whether, in the defendants' aeroplane, the tendency to swerve or spin is counteracted by means of a vertical rudder. Following the issuance of the temporary injunction, affidavits were submitted by both sides which present sharp conflicts in the evidence.

Under the circumstances, the court says, the infringement is not so clearly established as to justify a preliminary injunction.

The order against the Herring-Curtiss Company was granted some time ago at Buffalo by Judge Basel. The Paulhan injunction was issued here by Judge Hand.

Statement From Wrights.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—Upon learning of the dissolution of the temporary injunction against Paulhan and the Herring-Curtiss Company by the United States court of appeals in New York today, Wilbur and Orville Wright, who are here supervising the flight of their aeroplanes in the aviation meet at the Indianapolis motor speedway, tonight issued the following statement:

"It is a pity that we have read too much of the troubles of other inventors to expect altogether to escape extensive litigation. The dissolution of the injunction will greatly increase the expense of defending our rights, but in the end we will undoubtedly win. When the case comes regularly to trial we will prove that these machines are operated and must be operated just as described in our patents. As a matter of fact, they are so operated, and it is only a question of presenting proper evidence."

In France the government is about to venture upon an experiment for raising money by letting or selling the rights of advertising on match boxes, the sale of matches being a state monopoly. A proposal to this effect has been passed by the chamber of deputies. The proper use of the match advertising rights ought to bring in between $200,000 and $250,000.

REFUSE TO SEAT NEW MEMBERS

Trustees of Vanderbilt Take Action.

Will Not Recognize Men Elected by the General Conference of Methodist Church—Board Takes Stand That It Is Self-Perpetuating Body.

Nashville, Tenn., June 14.—By a vote of 19 to 8, the board of trust of Vanderbilt University this afternoon refused to recognize the three men elected by the general conference of the M. E. Church, South, at the Asheville meeting to fill the vacancies on the board.

The board of trust later elected the following eight members, filling that body to its full quota:

Claude Waller, Nashville; R. F. Jackson, Nashville; Bishop W. B. Murrah, Jackson, Miss.; J. A. Robbins, McKenize, Tenn.; Bishop W. R. Lambuth, Nashville; W. C. Ratcliff, Little Rock; R. W. Millisaps, Jackson, Miss.; Allen R. Carter, Louisville.

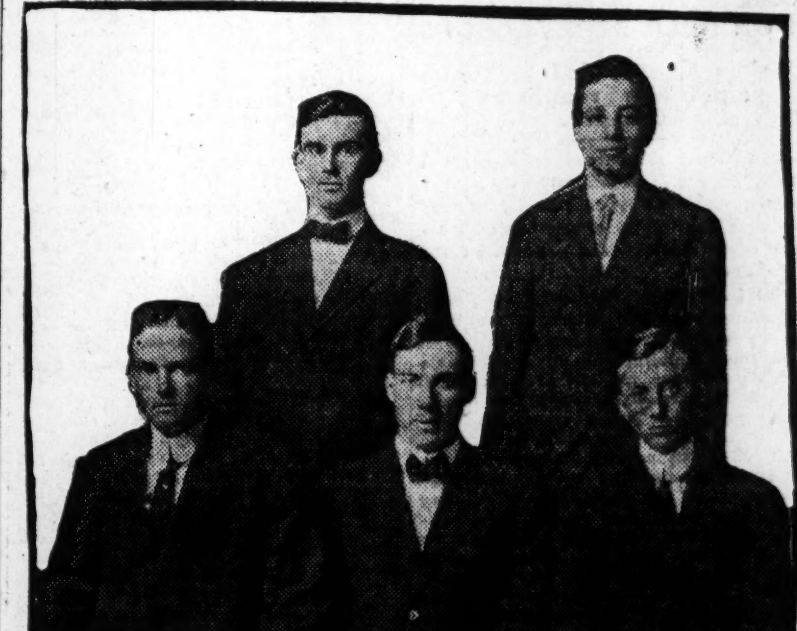

Following the vote refusing to seat the conference-elected members, Bishop A. W. Wilson tendered his resignation as a member of the board, which was accepted, and the vacancy filled along with the others.

By refusing to recognize the selections made by the Methodist conference the board of trust put itself on record as standing for a self-perpetuating board. The board, at its meeting this morning, repealed a clause in the by-laws which provided that elections to its membership must be approved by the general education board of the Methodist church. In taking this step, the majority of the board claimed that the clause had already been nullified by the general conference through the course pursued at the Asheville meeting.

The gentlemen refused recognition by the board of trust today have not intimated what course they expect to pursue in the matter, but those in a position to possess information, say they would not be surprised to see the institution of mandamus proceedings to compel the board of trust to recognize as members those designated as such by the general conference.

There are about 275,000 automobiles owned by individuals in the United States, or one for every 400 population.

ANNUAL JUNIOR ORATIONS HELD AT THE UNIVERSITY

Junior orators at University yesterday. Top row—Samuel Brock, of Carrollton, Ga.; Percy Rubenstein, of Athens, Ga. Bottom row—William J. Northern, Jr., of Atlanta; Robert Troutman, of Athens, and John Powell, of Statesboro.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—The annual junior orations were held in the chapel this afternoon. The speakers were:

Samuel Brock, of Carrollton; William J. Northern, Jr., of Atlanta; John R. Powell, of Statesboro; Percy M. Rubenstein, of Athens; Robert B. Troutman, of Athens, and Michael Witman, of Macon.

The prize for which they contended, a gold medal, offered by the board of trustees of the university, will be awarded to the winner on Wednesday morning at the commencement day exercises. The winner will not be announced until then.

After the orations the handsome silver cup, offered by the board of trustees to the winner of sophomore declamation, which took place Saturday evening, was awarded to James M. Lynch, of Florence. The cup was presented by Fair Dodd, of the class of 1906.

LONG SESSION BRINGING WOE TO MANY UNEASY CONGRESSMEN

Washington, June 14.—(Special.)—It will be the middle of July before congress will be able to finish up its work and go home, according to the best opinion among the statesmen, and there is sorrow in the ranks because thereof.

Never in the memory of man have so many congressmen and senators had fights, and hard fights, on their hands as this year, and the fences of some of those who are anxious to come back would disgrace an abandoned New England farm. Not only are their fences down, but opposition cut worms are eating at the roots of their political San Jose.

MACON POLICE RESCUE WHITE SLAVE VICTIM

14-Year-Old Augusta Girl Is Taken From Third Street Resort.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—Bearing all the evidence of a victim of the white slave traffic, Carrie Key, 14, was arrested today and will be returned to her home in Augusta. The arrest was made at the request of Chief of Police of Augusta, after a telegram had been addressed to him, that the girl had been recovered, he sent word that an officer would come here on the first train to carry the girl back home.

It is declared that she was induced here by an older person. She was dressed neatly in a black skirt and white waist when found in a Third Street resort.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY Dr. Hathaway & Co.

Delicate Women

There are plenty of women in this city who are delicate because they are "delicate" about coming directly to us and putting their whole trust and confidence in our ability to cure them.

Shame on such false modesty. Making yourself miserable and those about you simply because you have an idea you must bear your own burden or prescribe for it yourself, through some patent nostrum that had better be left alone.

You will forgive our plain, direct talk, won't you? For if you are ailing you need to be wakened up, and sometimes it is necessary for the physician to speak plainly.

Let us tell you what we have done for other women who were delicate once, but today are robust, well and strong, thanks to our careful, intelligent analysis of their trouble and special treatment for its cure.

Call if you can, or if not, send for our "Book for Women," sent free in plain envelope. It will open your eyes and tell you what to do to be cured.

TOO MANY GIFTS FROM RAILROADS CHARGED TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

Washington, June 14.—Members of the judiciary committee of the house were accused today of having received "employment and gifts of great pecuniary value" from railroads to the extent that they were rendered incapable of a fair judgment in regard to railway legislation before them.

Representative Randall, of Texas, who made the charge, asked that a bill covering gifts of passes to congressmen be returned before the house.

Representative Randall's charges alleged that Representative Parker, of New Jersey, chairman, and other members of the committee were receiving, in addition to "employment and gifts," also "franks and compensation of great pecuniary value."

At the conclusion of his speech he brought before the house a privileged resolution to remove the measure referred to from the committee on judiciary and to have it immediately reported back to the house.

Making a point of order against the resolution, Mr. Malby, of New York, a member of the judiciary committee, denounced the course of the Texas member in bringing such a resolution before the house.

"It is a cheap way to obtain notoriety," Mr. Malby exclaimed.

Chairman Parker, walking down the aisle toward the speaker's rostrum, said indignantly that "it is an insult to the committee as men of integrity and honesty."

"Does the gentleman charge the democrats with having received these gifts?" Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, inquired.

"I don't intend to make this a political matter," the Texas retorted. "I want this resolution acted on, whether republicans or democrats are involved."

After further discussion Speaker Cannon ruled that the resolution was not privileged. Mr. Randall appealed from the decision of the chair, but received little support from the democrats and none from the "insurgents," the house, by a vote of 121 to 20, sustaining the speaker.

Returning the Compliment.

(From Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.)

Senator Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, who is a bachelor and has never been ensnared by the wiles of women, tells a story of a young lady and a judge of his acquaintance. The former was a witness in the latter's court. The prosecuting attorney had repeatedly put to her questions which she persistently evaded under the plea that she did not comprehend his meaning. Whereupon His Honor undertook to bring out the proper responses. Leaning over he said in a kindly and fatherly manner, "Young woman, why is it that you insist in refusing to understand the questions of counsel? You are a person of charm, grace, beauty and more than average intelligence, and—"

"Thank you, Your Honor," interrupted the young woman, "if it will be not for the fact, Judge, that I am under oath I would return the compliment."

RUN OVER WOMAN ENDS KIDNAPING

Rome Man Is Held for Shooting.

Charles Robinson Declares It Was an Accident—It Is Claimed He Was Jealous of Callie Foster—Dispute Occurred on Monday Night.

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Claiming that the affair was an accident, Charles Robinson is in jail charged with the murder of Callie Foster at Morton's Bend last night. It is said the two men were on their way to see a girl named Frances Murphy, who resides on the Morton plantation. The shooting, it is said, occurred on the way. The officers are inclined to believe that the two men got into a dispute over the girl and that jealousy caused Robinson to resort to gunplay.

Robinson claims that Foster gave him a pistol to unbreach and that it was accidentally discharged while he was bending over the weapon. The bullet entered the lower part of the abdomen of Foster and he died at an early hour this morning. Robinson made no resistance to arrest.

PREACHER ROASTS CHURCH CONDITIONS

Chicago, June 14.—Uncompromising antagonism to conditions in Chicago which force pastors of centrally located churches to be institution heads, society presidents, charity trustees, gymnasium directors, sermon workers, endowment solicitors, school officials and even bill collectors—such duties obscuring their work as "religious leaders"—is responsible for the resignation of the Rev. John Archibald Morrison from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church, the oldest religious organization in Chicago.

When Dr. Morrison came here, six years ago, from a church in St. Johns, N. B., he says he expected his salary would be paid to him for services as a theologian and a preacher.

All Stationary Vacuum Cleaning Patents Brought Under One Control

The art of Vacuum Cleaning has been developed and perfected not by any one man, but by many men working independently.

One man, Kenney, the Father of Vacuum Cleaning in America, owned patents which gave him a virtual monopoly of the most vital ideas in Vacuum Cleaning.

Other men, several of them, controlled patents so essential to perfect Vacuum Cleaning that no good system could be installed without infringing on them.

But no one man, nor any body of men, has ever heretofore controlled a range of patents wide enough to cover the installation of a single complete Vacuum Cleaning System.

Each inventor, in building up a system around his own ideas, has infringed on others.

And the result of this war of inventors has been that the public has had the choice of accepting imperfect systems—or of inviting a storm of damage suits for infringements.

The First Perfect, Complete System

What we have done is to bring all of the important cleaning patents under one control.

So that now, for the first time, it is possible to offer a perfect, complete Stationary Vacuum Cleaning System embodying all of the ingenuities of all of the best inventors.

So that now, for the first time, it is possible to offer a Stationary Vacuum Cleaning System which can be installed without fear of infringement and damage suits.

The Protection of Eighty-five Patents

We now own or control eighty-five patents, including not only the Kenney and Matchette patents, but all other patents necessary to produce the most perfect and complete Stationary Vacuum Cleaning System known to the art today.

Fully 80 per cent of all Stationary Vacuum Cleaning Systems now installed in America have been installed by firms, which, under the present arrangements, are retiring in our favor, including The American Air Cleaning Co., Milwaukee, Wis.; The Vacuum Cleaner Co., New York, N. Y.; Sanitary Devices Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

WARNING

All persons are warned that henceforth all authorized stationary vacuum cleaning plants will bear the McCrum-Howell Company license plate. Systems offered without the McCrum-Howell Company license are infringing on the rights of the McCrum-Howell Company and the makers thereof, but also the purchasers and those who use them to damage suits, which in all cases will be promptly instituted. Please be sure to look for the McCrum-Howell Company license plate, which is to be found in each case on the vacuum producing apparatus.

TO "OLD GLORY" ELKS PAY HONOR

Atlanta Lodge Celebrates Its 133d Anniversary.

With impressive ritual, eloquent speeches and beautiful scenic effects, the Atlanta lodge of Elks—last night in the Grand Opera House, fittingly celebrated the 133d anniversary of the birth of Old Glory. The house was crowded with the members and friends, everyone wearing a small American flag, a favor presented in honor of the occasion.

At the playing of the overture, "America," the curtain rose and displayed a huge American flag which completely filled the front of the stage. As a burst of applause greeted this, it was in turn drawn up and revealed a tastefully decorated stage, upon which were seated Exalted Ruler W. P. Andrews, who conducted the ceremonies, and the orators of the evening.

The introductory exercises clearly outlined the purpose of the flag day ceremony as a desire to do honor to the Stars and Stripes and struck the keynote of the evening in the phrase, "to be an Elk is to be an American and a patriot."

Samuel C. Little then sketched the history of the flag, beginning with its early formative period and tracing its development up to the time when Betsy Ross, from a pattern furnished by General Washington, sewed together the flag, which, with the exception of the number of its stars, is the Old Glory of the present day.

At the completion of this address a curtain in the back of the stage was drawn up, revealing an elaborate group composed of the American eagle, shield and flag.

The rendition of "The Bright Sword of Liberty" by the Elks' double quartet pleased the audience so much that they insisted on two encores.

Dr. W. W. McMillinger delivered a tribute to the flag with his customary eloquence. Inspired with patriotism, his words took on a lyric quality which amounted almost to poetry.

The building of the floral ball of liberty was then performed with appropriate explanatory speeches. The ball was composed of three sections of flowers, red roses, lilies and violets. The end of this ceremony was marked by another beautiful tableau entitled "Liberty."

Dr. E. D. Ellenwood's address on "The Practice of Patriotism" was a strong appeal for good citizenship. He pictured the dangers of centralization of wealth and urged all men to stand for the kind of government symbolized by the flag.

After another beautiful tableau, "The Goddesses," the audience joined the double quartet in singing the "Star Spangled Banner." The benediction was pronounced by Dr. McMillinger.

LAW FIRM IS EMPLOYED TO FIGHT MONEY-LENDERS

That every possible means will be used to secure redress for those who suffered through the money lenders, and to secure a reform in the methods of business practiced by some of them, is assured by the fact that the law firm of Ogburn, Dorsey & Shelton has been engaged to represent those who have reason to complain.

The lawyers will charge no fees for the prosecution of the cases except when repeated suit is brought.

The fight against the money lenders will not only be countenanced by the railroads, but several have volunteered whatever assistance they can give.

Major J. F. Hanson, president of the Central of Georgia, has written to Woods White that the superintendent of the road in Atlanta has been instructed by wire to suspend the rule by which employees who assign their salaries are discharged.

E. E. Norris, superintendent of the Southern, also has written to Mr. White, stating that it will give the road pleasure to cooperate in any way possible in the prosecution of the money lenders.

FAN FIRES HIS PISTOL ON CROWDED BLEACHERS

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—During the progress of a baseball game this afternoon between Rome and Gadsden, of the Southeastern League teams, James Henry and Charles Chesler, white men, had a quarrel in the bleachers and the former whipped out a gun and fired two shots at the latter, which went wild, but endangered the lives of many people.

Bad blood existed for some time between the two men and this afternoon Henry tried to crowd Chesler out of a seat. It is said when the latter hit him in the mouth, this enraged Henry and he pulled out his gun and fired, Chesler striking the pistol and the bullets sinking in the ground. Henry was arrested.

MEETING IS HELD BY ODD FELLOWS

Officers of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the state of Georgia and division deputies held their regular annual meeting at the Kimball House yesterday for the purpose of mapping out the work for the coming year. Plans were discussed and settled upon and many details arranged.

Of the twenty districts in the state, only three were without representatives at the meeting. These representatives came from all portions of the state and all pronounced the meeting one of the most successful and satisfactory, in every respect, ever held.

The grand lodge officers in attendance were: Past Grand Masters J. B. Davis, of Rome; J. A. Dozier, of Athens; T. H. Robertson, of Gainesville, who is also grand secretary; Grand Master Oren Roberts, of Monroe; Grand Secretary C. W. Davis, of Thomasville, and Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment of the State of Georgia, William McCormick, of Fitzgerald.

GREAT WORK DONE BY PROF. DELOACH

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—One of the features of the commencement exercises of the University of Georgia was the Alumni luncheon given today, Governor Brown and President Soule, of the State College of Agriculture, being the principal speakers.

Governor Brown spoke with reference to the investigation of the cotton industry in the south, and stated that he had been in correspondence with the noted naturalist and botanist, Luther Burbank, of California, in efforts to ascertain whether the famous scientist could not be persuaded to enlist in the movement to improve the cotton being grown in the southern states, and find some means of preventing the inroads of the boll weevil, which is costing the south millions every year.

He announced that he would make public the results of his conference with Burbank as soon as possible and hoped to be able to secure his assistance in the work.

President Soule devoted his time to the same subject, and showed that the problem had practically been solved for the state of Georgia and the south, by one of the investigators at the state college, without the aid of the noted Burbank. He paid Professor R. H. J. DeLoach the highest compliments for the work that he has done along this line, and stated that the discovery of the cotton seed that was practically immune from the effects of the dreaded boll weevil had been made, and would revolutionize the culture of the fleecy staple.

Governor Brown stated that, after hearing the situation, he considered the consultation with the California plant

COUNCIL UPHOLDS HAPEVILLE MAYOR

For Fining Prof. Daniel. Citizens Opposed to Action.

The council of Hapeville last night confirmed the mayor's recent action of fining Professor J. M. Daniel the sum of $25.75 or thirty days on the streets for beginning the construction of a house without a permit, and instead of the adjustment of affairs which it was expected would be reached, the breach between the citizens and the mayor and council apparently is continually widening.

Following the trial, the citizens congregated in the street and were not slow to let it be known in which direction their sympathies lay, crying loudly for a new council and a new mayor, and creating considerable disturbance generally.

The marshal testified that the mayor had ordered him to incarcerate Professor Daniel before giving him opportunity to make bond. It also developed that the marshal is not bonded and has never been asked to give bond, although the city ordinance provides that he shall do so.

The city clerk, under whose supervision comes the issuance of building permits, testified that, although forty or more buildings have been erected, but three permits have been issued.

The attorney for Professor Daniel stated that by certiorari the case would go to the supreme court.

CRIME MENACES POPULAR RULE

their property. The bankers of America have done likewise. So have the hotel keepers. So have the railroads. They could not depend on the public police. It was cheaper to maintain a police system of their own. Will the people of America also be forced to employ private watchmen?

"I do not wish for the accuracy of these figures, but I cannot dispute them. Nor am I prepared to deny or refute the inglorious lead which is assigned to the Empire State in the South in this horrible carnival of unpunished crime.

Lynch Law.
"I have not the statistics of murders at the hands of mobs, commonly called 'lynchings,' in the various states of the union, and I am glad I have not, for I am afraid Georgia might show an unenviable rank in that list. But mob violence has become such a frequent occurrence that the masses of our people seem to look on with complacency. The time was not long ago when an outbreak of mob violence shocked the public conscience and a few apologists, and was severely condemned by all the newspapers, officeholders, leading citizens and candidates for office.

"But now, having grown more familiar with these outrages against government, law and society, they cease to shock, and the newspapers which do not apologize for the mob, boldly approve of its action. Politicians, leading citizens, officeholders and office-seekers, when not inciting the mob, and when not operating else remain discreetly silent, and the whole of the people of the state apparently look on with unconcern. Prisoners have been taken from the possession of officers or from the jails, and even from the court room, and the presence of the judge, surrounded by sheriffs, bailiffs and soldiers and the orderly processes of the court violently suspended without its consent. And these prisoners to whom the state government and its constitution had guaranteed a fair and impartial trial, and no deprivation of life except by due process of law, have been brutally and barbarously murdered in the very presence of our sovereign—the state. And if anyone of these pirates who have thus overthrown the law and humiliated the government has ever been convicted and adequately punished for his crime, there is no record of it.

Georgia Railroad Strike.
"During the strike on the Georgia railroad, about a year ago, mobs in Atlanta and Augusta and at many stations along the line of the road stopped the operation of all trains for nearly a week by violent attacks upon the trains, and especially upon the negro firemen used by the management over the protest of the mobs. All travel and traffic were stopped, innocent laborers were beaten and driven from their work; property was damaged, and commerce and business suspended. While this state of anarchy reigned through middle Georgia, and the mob held triumphant sway, the state government, with all its officers and soldiers, so far as the record discloses, preserved a strict neutrality, apparently paralyzed and unable or unwilling to turn a wheel to protect either life or property. Had not the federal government intervened for the protection of the mails and interstate commerce, no one can tell how long this public service corporation would have been kept out of commission, with its engines dead-ended, and its rails rusting, causing fatalities to close down a general stagnation of business among the people.

"Condemnation of the unchecked reign of lawlessness, in times of peace, is without regard to the merits of the strike, or the cause which invited the anger of the mob. A government in a civilized community should have a policeman on the job, who can and will arrest every disturber of the peace and lock him up, and let the courts decide the merits of the quarrel. The government should impose its power, looking on while its subjects or its citizens riot, fight, kill and destroy each other and the cause of order does not deserve the name of 'government.' That the action of the mob met with popular approval merely accentuates the necessity for strong enforcement.

CRAZE CROWDS RESIEGE MORGUE

To Identify Victims of Montreal Disaster.

All-Night Search Among the Smoking Ruins of the Factory Adds Only One Body to the Two Already Discovered.

Montreal, June 14.—An all-night search of the ruins of The Herald building, which was destroyed by fire yesterday, brought to light but one additional victim, making in all three recovered up 10 o'clock today. The bodies recovered are those of:
FRANK CONSITT, a compositor, Perth, Ontario.
LAURA AMESSE, forewoman of the bindery.

AN UNIDENTIFIED MAN.

Relays of police and firemen are digging at the ruins, and it will be at least thirty-six hours more before the basement, which is believed to contain the bodies of twenty-six additional victims, is reached.

A wild crowd began to besiege the city morgue early today, searching for missing relatives and friends, and the police were obliged to draw a cordon about the building.

Reports from the hospitals indicate that the twenty-five injured are doing well. An official investigation has been ordered.

Fragments Found.
After twenty-four hours of systematic search in the tangled ruins only four bodies have been found. Here and there a fragment of a human body was picked up. It is probable that few of the remaining bodies will be found in anything like a complete state.

New stories of heroism have come to light. Miss Laura Amesse, the forewoman of The Herald bindery, might easily have saved herself. Urged to descend a fireman's ladder, she refused, declaring: "There are other girls in there that I must get out."

Time and again she went back into the blazing ruins and assisted terror-stricken girls to a place of safety. Suddenly she disappeared. No change has been made in the list of dead and missing.

Scient government. The sympathy of the crowd never excuses the policeman for failure to arrest the rioters.

Too Much Democracy.
"One of the chief causes of weakness and inefficiency of our state government in the suppression of crime is the modern tendency towards too much democracy in the administration of laws.

"Pure democracies have never been successful in the administration of government, however intelligent their constituents. It is, at most, but a government of the mob, controlled and swayed by the passions and prejudices of the mob. Every time a man without an anchor or rudder, and becomes the plaything of the maddening storms of human passion, where only those become leaders who can and will play upon the lowest and meanest chords of human selfishness.

Popular Elections Cow Officers.
"The trend of government in Georgia for the past twenty years, a period for which lawlessness has made its greatest strides, has been towards popular elections for all officers. These popular elections, with short terms, have tended to cow our officeholders, and make them subservient to the voters rather than to the law. Many a candidate for office, whether in or out, has his ear to the ground, catches every rumbling noise of popular sentiment, whether for the enforcement of law, or against it, and consequently, his attitude upon these important issues is shaped as to secure the most votes.

Criminals Help Elect Judges and Solicitors.
"Our judges, who are to try people charged with crime, and the solicitors who are to represent the state and society in the prosecution of criminals, are elected by direct vote of the people. Men charged with murder, robbery, riot, gambling, carrying concealed weapons, violations of the prohibition laws, and other crimes, their relatives and friends, choose between the candidates for these important offices those who are to try them. Is it human nature for this political support or opposition to have no effect or influence on the conduct of the judge or the elected officer?"

Weakness of State.
"The mob's excuse for action," he said, "is the government's inaction. This picture of the weakness and inefficiency of our state governments is not overdrawn. Whatever obedience there may be to our state laws is almost wholly voluntary, and not from fear or respect for the power of the law. It is a credit to our civilization that we are even so peaceful and law-abiding in a country where the restraints of government are so weak, and its enforcement so indifferent. But the condition is rapidly growing worse, as shown by the statistics already cited. Human passions have already required control and restraint; the strong must not be allowed to impose upon the weak, and the weak must be protected, and every state of organized society should protect the life, liberty and property of its citizens.

"While modern inventions, the discoveries of science, the wonderful developments of industry and commerce, the accumulation and concentration of vast wealth, and the combination of the forces of the world have produced some of the forces which defy the law and defeat governments, its frequent failure and general inefficiency is due to its inherent weakness rather than to the strength of its adversaries. Government fails and falls before individual law breakers of small means as often or oftener than before the mob. Every time the criminal escapes, the just punishment for his crime, whether by avoiding arrest, through sympathy of the jurors, or technicalities of law, the government

TRUSTEES HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Agricultural College in Fine Condition.

Extension Work, if Carried On, Will Make It the Best in the South—$1,000 Appropriated to Complete the New Athletic Field.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—At the session of the university trustees today, the annual report of the State College of Agriculture was made by President Connor, of the board of trustees, and the college was shown in a most flourishing condition.

Best in South.
The extension work planned for the agricultural college, if carried through, will make it without a peer in the south, and in a few years, under Dr. Soule's able management, the State College of Agriculture will be one of the largest in the country, while the work being done is of inestimable benefit.

The trustees adopted a resolution by which the state legislature will be asked to make two more members of the university board of trustees, ex-officio members of the boards of the various colleges in the system, for the purpose of bringing the colleges closer together. This was suggested by Hon. N. G. Harris, president of the Tech board of trustees.

For Athletic Field.
Professor Robert McWhorter was made adjunct professor in Latin and Greek, Professor Marion DuBoise was made associate professor in German, and Professor Payne was made associate professor in history. H. A. Nix, of Commerce, who is valedictorian for the class of 1910, was made tutor in English.

The board of trustees of the university appropriated today the sum of $1,000 for the completion of the new athletic field, which the county of Clarke recently graded without expense to the university, and on which the athletic and gymnasium activities will be conducted, also furnishing an admirable drill ground for the cadet corps of the university when needed.

Experience in practically all the leading colleges of the country shows that one of the most important subjects for consideration at this time is the proper physical examination of the students and the necessity of the necessary of their physical habits. Consequently the board thought it wise to provide for instructors in physical culture, which positions will be filled by Professor F. B. Anderson, a graduate of the University of Georgia, and Professor W. A. Cunningham, a graduate of Vanderbilt.

goes down in defeat and loses in the respect of its citizens, and in its terror for evil-doers. Every time a man is a patent failure of justice, government is arraigned at the bar of public opinion, and its chief supports, loyalty and patriotism, are weakened, while crime and dishonesty grow bolder.

Superior Efficiency of Federal Government.
"Another striking evidence that the failures and inefficiency of our state governments are due to their weakness rather than to the strength of its adversaries is found in a comparison with the administration of federal government in our midst. Those who violate the laws of congress are hunted down with a relentless pursuit until they are captured, and then they are tried in a court where the government has an even chance with the accused, and where numerous devices and technicalities for their escape have not been provided. Violators of revenue laws, postal laws, pure food laws, and sometimes, when they are 'wicked trusts,' anti-trust laws are made to feel the heavy and sure hand of the government whose laws they have dared to transgress.

Local Self-Government in Danger.
"But what are we going to do about it? Are we going to let the increase of crime continue until the people, exasperated with conditions, seek government from some other source? Or are we going to meet the emergency by strengthening our state governments so that they can and will promptly suppress every lawless force, either of individuals or combinations, which interfere with the peace of society, the rights of citizens and the orderly administration of law?"

"It is hardly necessary to state that it is only by the latter method that we can preserve for ourselves and our posterity the blessings of local self-government. "Think you there is no danger? Do you laugh at the suggestion of a supreme central government in America? Human life and human liberty will not continue to cry for protection in vain. The people of all ages and climes have considered the protection of private property sufficient inducement for the change of allegiance. Even the vigorous state executive who rules with strong hand, whether lawfully or unlawfully, is applied by the masses, and counted a great statesman. Are you sure the American people do not want an emperor or a tyrant to rule over them? It will not be the first time that the people have cried for a king to lead them in battle and protect them from the depredations of those who would destroy their homes and murder their families. But, hear, ye, oh, Israel, the warning of the Prophet as to the manner of this king:

"He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots. And he shall appoint his captains over thousands, and captains over fifties, and will set as them to bear his ground, and reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war and instruments of his chariots.

"And he will take your daughters to be confectionaries, cooks and bakers. "And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your olive yards, even the best, and give to his servants. "And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers and to his servants.

"And he will take your men-servants and your maid-servants, and your goodliest young men, and your asses, and put them to the plow. And he will take the tenth of your sheep, and ye shall be his servants.

"He may not be called a king, or an emperor, in America for years to come, but the government which he administers will not be local self-government. The rival claimants for our allegiance is already in our midst giving us comparative demonstrations of its weakness and punishing crime. It is a veritable avenging Nemesis compared with the indifference, uncertainty and failure of our state administrations. The growth of interstate commerce and the growth of state governments before they cry out to this stronger government for protection against lawlessness and crime."

"I see that somebody says all women are liars." "Yes, I noticed that. One of the remarkable things about it is that the man who said it isn't a shoe clerk." Chicago Record-Herald.

GOVERNOR OPPOSES REGISTRATION LAW

In Message to Legislature
Will Recommend Repeal of Present Law.

In his message to the general assembly, which is now in process of preparation, Governor Joseph M. Brown will recommend the repeal of the present registration law, which requires that the registration books shall be closed six months prior to an election.

The governor, it is said, will point out the evil effects of the law in disfranchising thousands of voters of the state by the early closing requirement. In support of this statement he will give comparative figures, showing the number of voters who were registered in previous years, and the number registered this year, which shows that thousands of voters who are of the best in the state, have been denied the privilege of voting because the books closed before they had an opportunity to register, or before there was any political campaign on to arouse their interest.

The Registration Law.
Regarding the registration law, in his message last year the governor said:

"In my judgment one of the main provisions of the law should be amended. It provides that the registry lists shall be closed on April 1 of election years, or more than six months in advance of the election. I recommend that this be changed, so that in the interim between the closing of the lists and the elections may be no more than thirty days before general, special or primary elections."

"It is a well-known fact that a large majority of our farmers and business men do not pay their taxes in person, but by agents or by check. It is therefore easy to see how the present law will practically disfranchise many good citizens."

"To require the citizens of Georgia to register six months in advance of the election is entirely too drastic. We presume that the average Georgia voter is honest. This act presumes that he is not, and seeks to shut him out unawares from the natural right of a free citizen, to vote. The law should make it easy, not hard, for a man to vote, the presumption of innocence being on his side."

Objectionable Features.
Other objectionable features of the law will be pointed out by the governor to the legislature, it is said.

It is stated the governor will repeat his recommendation that the state should issue about $600,000 worth of bonds, thus utilizing the credit of the state for the purpose of completing the payments due teachers of Georgia. In his last message the governor recommended that the proceeds of the bonds should be used to create a permanent loan fund to be loaned every spring to the school fund and to be returned to the loan fund in December when the taxes are collected. Under this method the prompt payment of teachers will be assured.

It is also stated that the governor will repeat his recommendation that the railroad commission should be reduced from five to three, and will again call attention to the platform upon which the present administration of Georgia was chosen, and which declares:

Opposes Unnecessary Offices.

"We are opposed to unnecessary offices which levy additional taxes on the people, and we ask the legislature to scan carefully Georgia's payroll to the end that all superfluous be cut off. We especially favor a reduction in the membership of the railroad commission from five to three, and the retention of the office of special attorney to the same."

The governor will also very probably reiterate his declaration that the legislature should establish a department of labor, at the head of which should be a labor commissioner who shall compile statistics showing labor conditions throughout the state, and furnish the same to industrial institutions who desire such information."

It is also very probable that the governor will again state his position regarding the municipal control of public utility corporations. In his message last year he quoted the platform declaration as follows:

"Such utility corporations as are purely local in their operation, should be left to the control of the municipalities in which they are located. I unhesitatingly commend the above. Local self-government is the bedrock of our civilization, and the paternalism manifest in some portions of our present law enlarging the powers of the railroad commission should be eliminated."

It is stated that the governor will not recede from any position which he took in his last message to the general assembly and that his message this year will not differ materially from the message of 1909.

H. H. PERRY MAKES SPEECH AT SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—H. H. Perry, of Gainesville, spoke in Savannah in the interest of his candidacy for governor. His address followed the lines of his former speeches.

Engineer Sires Scalded.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Engineer J. E. Sires, one of the oldest of the Central Railway engineers, was badly scalded on his engine at Powersville yesterday. Negroes Get Sentences.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Several negroes were given sentences in recorder's court this morning out of the crowds taken by Chief Chapman and a squad of officers yesterday. Many got away on excuse rendered by alleged employers. Some had real employers and therefore were not detained. The resorts are today rather free from the crowds of yesterday.

JAMES A. PERRY VISITS ATLANTA

Will Be Candidate to Succeed Candler or Stevens as Commissioner.

Attorney James A. Perry, of Lawrenceville, candidate for railroad commissioner, was in Atlanta yesterday in the interest of his campaign for election to that office.

Mr. Perry states that he will be a candidate for election to one of the two vacancies created by the expiration of the terms of Commissioners Murphy Candler and O. B. Stevens on December 31, 1910. He will not be a candidate for election to the short term of three years, to which Commissioner Gray was appointed as a successor to S. C. McDaniel and for which he is now a candidate.

"The idea has prevailed in certain quarters that it would be necessary for me to name the commissioner against whom I would make the race," said Mr. Perry, "but that is unnecessary unless I should desire to run against Mr. Gray for the short term."

"The terms of Mr. Candler and Mr. Stevens expire on December 31, 1910, and two commissioners must be elected to succeed them. I am a candidate for either one of those terms and if there are three candidates in the race the two securing the highest number of votes will be elected."

Mr. Perry states that he is conducting an active campaign in the interest of his candidacy and expects to visit practically all the counties of the state before the election. He will announce his itinerary within a few days.

PEACH GROWERS HOLD MEETING THIS MORNING

Executive Committee Will Discuss the Standardizing and Grading of Fruit.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Georgia Fruit Exchange in the office of the exchange, in the A. B. & A. Building, this morning. President I. F. Murphy, of Marshallville, chairman of the board, has already arrived in the city.

Among the more important questions to be discussed will be the standardizing and grading of fruit marketed through the exchange. This will prove of great value to the exchange in handling the fruit crop.

If this is done with the peaches it is stated that more ready sale can be had for them by reason of the fact a buyer can figure at once the price he is to charge per peach and draw his conclusions quickly.

CHILD PRONOUNCED DEAD IS BROUGHT TO LIFE

Louisville, Ky., June 14.—After having fallen into a bucket of water and being pronounced dead by a physician, Lewis Mandel, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marx Mandel, of 428 South Seventh street, was resuscitated by Policemen Chern and O'Hair last night.

The officers worked on the infant half an hour before he was fully revived and his parents exclaimed the miracle with a fervor approaching that which greeted the raising of Jairus. The officers have remarkable records for restoring to life a number of supposedly drowned persons.

IN BOWERY HOTEL MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Police Looking for His Alleged Brother.

Man Known as Frank Stricklett Found in Bowery Hotel With Pistol Shot Through the Temple.

New York, June 14.—A man whose name is given by the police as Frank Stricklett, and who is believed to have come here recently from Baltimore, was found murdered today in a Bowery hotel. A revolver bullet had entered his left temple, causing instant death, physicians said. There was no trace of the revolver.

The victim of the murder was registered with another man at the hotel early today as "John Stricklett and brother, Frank." The supposed brother was not to be found when the body was discovered.

The clothing of the dead man, apparently, was purchased in Baltimore. The name of that city on his clothing and the card of a New York electrical concern in the coat pocket were the only clues left to aid a search for the man's antecedents. He was apparently an Englishman about 25 years of age.

Bitten by Negro.

Savannah, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—J. E. Ramsey lost an ear this morning when a huge negro longshoreman sprang upon him on the deck of a schooner lying in the Savannah river and used his teeth as a weapon. During the fight both narrowly escaped going overboard.

ANNIVERSARY CLUB OPENS CONVENTION

William L. Meador Inaugurated President of Club.

The Anniversary Club of the Southern States Life Insurance Company held its first meeting of a two days' convention in the home offices of the company in the Candler building yesterday. This unique organization is composed of those agents who have written over $100,000 worth of paid business during the year from May 1 to April 20 and the three agents who have written the greatest amount of business are named president, first vice president and second vice president, according to the amounts written.

William L. Meador, general agent of Atlanta, was inaugurated president at the opening session Tuesday morning. Joe W. Vinson, general agent of Blakely, Ga., and Hugh N. McAfee, general agent, Atlanta, the retiring president, were inaugurated first and second vice presidents, respectively, and Robert F. Moore, secretary.

President Wilmer L. Moore opened the convention with a brief address of welcome and congratulation to the new members of the club. Following the address he presented the newly-inaugurated officers with the cash prizes won with their office. President Meador was presented with a silver-mounted gavel with which to preside, and each of the new members was given a gold Keystone arch watch fob. Each reflected member received a gold bar, engraved with the year, to be appended to the fob previously won. The winners in the Roosevelt trip contest, which was based upon the paid business written during May, which provides for a trip and expenses to New York and return to attend the welcome of Colonel Roosevelt home, were announced as follows: Hugh N. McAfee, Atlanta; David A. Leon, Jacksonville, Fla.; J. C. Yates, Nashville, Ga.; W. E. Hubbard, Locust Grove, Ga.; W. M. Alexander, Moultrie, Ga.; H. W. Hogg, Buena Vista, Ga., and J. R. Blake, of Abbeville, S. C. With sorrow, President Moore announced the sudden death of Mr. Alexander, of Moultrie, on last Monday.

The following papers were read at the opening session: "Success Aided by Publicity," by G. J. McDowell, of Charleston, S. C.; "The Keystone," the insurance journal of the Southern States Life, by Robert F. Moore, agency secretary and editor-in-chief of the paper; "The Medical Department," by E. M. Veatch, and "The Company's True Progress Is Its Renewals," by Frank Orme, the secretary-treasurer of the Southern States Life.

As guests of the company, the members of the club then lunched at the Capital City Club, after which they attended the ball game and took an automobile ride over the county. Last night the club dined at the Rathskeller and attended the Porphy. This morning another session of the club will be held, while the afternoon will be given over to amusement. Tonight the convention will close with a brilliant banquet at the Piedmont Driving Club.

The membership of the Anniversary Club is composed of William L. Meador, Joe W. Vinson, H. N. McAfee, Fred Hines, Lake City, S. C.; David A. Leon, Jacksonville, Fla.; G. J. McDowell, Charleston, S. C.; Burton B. Murray, DeFuniak Springs, Fla.; L. S. Parrish, Nashville, Ga.; W. S. Ward, Greenville, S. C.; J. T. Weems, McDonough, Ga., and Robert F. Moore, agency secretary, Atlanta, Ga.

BELIEVE WENDLING IS AT GAINESVILLE

Suspect Answers Description of Man Who Killed Kellner Girl.

Savannah, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—A man answering the description of Joseph Wendling, the Louisville janitor suspected of murdering Alma Kellner, is under arrest in Gainesville, Ga., and is being held for the arrival of officers from Louisville. Wendling is said to be a deserter from the French army, and an old French uniform was found in the prisoner's possession. He had been working as a blacksmith here and was married five months ago.

Lightning Strikes Pole.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Striking a flag pole on the four-story building of the J. W. Burke Company this afternoon during a storm, lightning tore a large flag pole off, hurling it into a street full of pedestrians, vehicles and auto parties. The huge piece of timber landed broadside on the pavement, striking no one, but the usually congested portion of the street was soon deserted. There were many narrow escapes.

Free Liver Remedy

It is well to stop a physical ailment at the first signs of its approach, and that is especially true of liver trouble, which can eventually give rise to so many serious complications. Many have liver trouble and imagine it is indigestion, and hence take the wrong remedy.

When the liver does not store up sufficient gastric juices, it becomes sluggish, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. The comes the sallow complexion, the pimply face, the dull pain in the forehead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. Jas. Kennedy, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. B. A. La Rue, of Smith's Grove, Ky., and many others.

These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you tell us your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is not indigestion, and with this remedy or money will be refunded. Having tried it you can then buy it in the regular way of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and the latter is sufficient for an entire family.

This remedy is a vast improvement over cathartic tablets and salts, which only do good for the time being. Syrup Pepsin is permanent in its results, is pleasant to take and does not gripe. It is especially good for all those who cannot stand a violent purgative.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R-515, Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

ANNIVERSARY CLUB OF THE SOUTHERN STATES LIFE IS HOLDING INTERESTING SESSIONS IN ATLANTA

William L. Meador, of This City, Is President—Only Agents Who Have Produced Over $100,000 of Paid-For Business Are Eligible for Membership—Cash Prizes Awarded Winners—Silver-Mounted Gavel Presented President Meador—Watch Fobs Given Club Members.

The Third Annual Convention of the members of the Anniversary Club of The Southern States Life Insurance Company is now in session in Atlanta. The opening session was held Tuesday morning in the directors' room of the Home Office in the Candler Building, and will conclude with an elaborate banquet at the Piedmont Driving Club tonight.

The Anniversary Club is one of the most unique, enthusiastic and progressive organizations connected with insurance in the country. It was organized on May 1, 1907, on the suggestion of former director of agencies, R. K. Shaw. Since that time it has grown to be one of the most conspicuous features of this great Southern life insurance company. The Southern States Life Insurance Company was organized on May 10, 1906, and on the first anniversary of this organization, at a gathering of its agents, the Anniversary Club was formed. Each year in June the Anniversary Club meets in Atlanta at the Home Office of the Company for the installation of officers; a general reunion; the reading of interesting papers and a general jollification of the agents, who through their own efforts have elected themselves members of this most interesting organization. Membership in the Anniversary Club is achieved through the individual efforts of the agents of The Southern States Life. In the same way the officers earn their office. Membership in the Anniversary Club is secured only by an agent writing over $100,000 of paid-for business during the year from May 1 to April 30, inclusive. The agent producing the largest amount of paid-for business is by this means elected president. The next largest amount being produced gives that agent the office of vice president. The third largest amount elects that agent to the office of second vice president. The secretary of the Anniversary Club is named by the Company from one of the members of the Home Office force.

W. L. Meador President.
The newly-elected president of the Anniversary Club, who was inducted into office at the opening meeting on Tuesday, was William L. Meador, General Agent, Atlanta, and a son of T. D. Meador, Vice President of The Southern States Life, also of Atlanta. Mr. Meador succeeds Hugh N. McAfee, of Atlanta, also General Agent, who was president of the Anniversary Club for the year 1909-10. Joe W. Vinson, General Agent, Blakely, Ga., by his successful efforts in writing paid-for business, won the office of vice president. Hugh N. McAfee, General Agent, of Atlanta, also General Agent, was elected second vice president. Robert F. Moore, Agency Secretary, attached to the Home Office, was reappointed Secretary of the Anniversary Club, which office he has filled with such great credit since the organization of the Anniversary Club. The membership for the year 1910-11 is composed of the following well-known insurance agents, who are making a name for themselves and also for The Southern States Life: Wm. L. Meador, Joe W. Vinson, H. N. McAfee, Fred Hines, Lake City, S. C.; David A. Leon, Jacksonville, Fla.; G. J. McDowell, Charleston, S. C.; Burton B. Murray, DeFuniak Springs, Fla.; L. S. Parrish, Nashville, Ga.; W. S. Ward, Greenville, S. C.; J. T. Weems, McDonough, Ga. Messrs. McAfee, McDowell, Ward and Weems have qualified consecutively since 1904 as members of the Anniversary Club. Messrs. Meador, Vinson, Hines and Parrish have held consecutive membership since 1909.

Opening Session Tuesday.
At the opening session of the Anniversary Club at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning an address of welcome to the Anniversary Club was delivered by President Wilmer L. Moore, of The Southern States Life. After his cordial words of welcome and hearty congratulations upon the success achieved by these brainy young insurance men of the south, the newly-elected officers were inaugurated. Their inauguration was made all the more interesting by the presentation of cash prizes awarded by the Company to the officers of the Anniversary Club, who, as stated, have written the largest amount of paid-for insurance during the year so successfully closed by these agents. President Meador was presented with a handsome silver-mounted rosewood gavel, with which to preside over the sessions of the Club. The gavel bore his name on a silver plate, also the date of his office. One of the most attractive features of the emboosing of the gavel was the silver Keystone Arch, the insignia of The Southern States Life. Gold watch fobs carrying out the Keystone feature of the Company were also distributed to the members of the Club and in addition certificates of membership of the Club beautifully engraved on parchment were also presented to each member. To those members who had previously qualified as members of this Club, there was presented an additional gold bar, on which there was engraved the different years during which they have held membership in the Anniversary Club.

The Roosevelt Prize Winners.
President Moore then announced the winners of what is commonly known as the "Roosevelt Trip Contest." This has been a "bully" contest and the winners are "de-lighted" at their success in winning these coveted prizes. Seven prizes, consisting of trips to New York City and return to participate in the demonstration incident to Colonel Roosevelt's home-coming to this country, were offered to the agents of The Southern States Life and were contested for and won during the month of May. The contestants were divided into four classes and the classes were divided into two divisions. The first prize was awarded to the agent who produced the greatest volume of paid-for business, and the second to the one who secured the greatest number of applications during the month of May.

The winner of the first prize was Hugh N. McAfee, the retiring president of the Anniversary Club, who last year won a similar prize to the Taft inauguration exercises. There was only one prize offered in class one.

In class two David A. Leon, general agent, Jacksonville, Fla., won the prize for producing the greatest volume of paid-for business. J. C. Fates, general agent, Nashville, Ga., won the prize in this class for securing the greatest number of applications.

In class three W. E. Hubbard, of Locust Grove, Ga., won the first prize, for producing the greatest volume of paid-for business, and W. M. Alexander, of Moultrie, Ga., won the second prize.

JOE W. VINSON, First Vice President.

for securing the greatest number of applications. There is a sad incident connected with this last named prize winner, for to the sorrow of the company and his host of co-workers, it was announced that Mr. Alexander died suddenly on Monday, June 6.

All Contests Close.
In class four the prize for producing the greatest volume of business was won by H. Willis Hogg, general agent at Buena Vista, Ga., while that for securing the greatest number of applications was won by J. R. Blake, of Abbeville, S. C.

The contests were exceedingly close in every class, particularly the last one, where there was a difference of but $5,000 between the first four contestants and never over six applications divided the winners from the losers in that class.

The "Roosevelt winners," as they are known, are in attendance upon the convention and will leave Thursday for New York to participate in the welcoming home exercises incident to Colonel Roosevelt's return.

The opening paper read by a member of the Club was that of G. J. McDowell, of Charleston, who took for his subject "Success Aided by Publicity." In this able paper he presented the hypnotism of the type in its most attractive form.

Splendid Papers Read.
Robert F. Moore, Editor-in-Chief of The Keystone, the monthly insurance journal of The Southern States Life, took that house organ for his subject, and, with pride, pointed out the splendid esprit de corps this organ had worked up for The Southern States Life. This paper was followed by one on the Medical Department, prepared by E. M. Veatch, which proved a most interesting one. Frank Orme, Secretary and Treasurer of The Southern States Life, read the concluding paper of the morning session, entitled "The Company's True Progress Is Its Renewals." He handled this most complex question in a most business-like manner and pointed out clearly the strength of his subject. After these papers, that most interesting feature, the Question Box, was brought out and for an hour straight questions and clear answers played battle-dumb and shuttle-cock in the convention hall. After this the meeting adjourned.

At 1 o'clock the official photograph of the Club, which is reproduced on this page, was taken. The Club membership then went in a body to the Capital City Club, where a most delightful luncheon had been prepared by the officers of the Company. The afternoon session was devoted to baseball and the Anniversary Club occupied a box at the Ponce de Leon grounds. After the game the club was taken for an automobile trip over the good roads of Fulton County, winding up at the Rutherford Hotel, where the club occupied boxes at the theater Tuesday night.

Wednesday Session.
Wednesday morning the business sessions of the Club will be resumed in the Directors' room of the Home Office. The opening paper will be read by J. E. Norment, of Darlington, S. C., who is supervisor of agencies for the state of South Carolina for The Southern States Life. His subject is, "How the Agency Forces Should Be Organized—The Best Method for an Agent to Adopt for the Development of His Territory." In this paper Mr. Norment will clearly demonstrate how this should be done. Marion M. Jackson, of the firm of Jackson & Orme, general counsel for The Southern States Life, follows with a paper on "Some Recent Remarkable Court Decisions on Life Insurance." Jackson has made a splendid study of this subject, and as a result of his paper many legal pitfalls will be avoided by the members of the Anniversary Club. Frank E. Brodnax, Inspector of agents for the state of Florida, will read a strong paper on "The Advance Premium Policy, the 'Best Ever.'" Mr. Brodnax has written a most attractive essay on this subject, which was recently awarded the prize by this company for its general excellence. The next paper will be by Samuel Barnett on "The Mad Contest for Dividend Records." He will paint this contest with color and make a most virile talk. Dr. W. S. Kendrick, Medical Director of The Southern States Life, will read the concluding paper, entitled "Conservation of Health—How the Life Company Can Aid," pointing out the great work The Southern States Life is doing to bring about better health conditions wherever its policies are sold. It will be a strong paper, and will bring this feature of the program to a splendid close.

Following these set features of the program, miscellaneous subjects will be introduced and disposed of. Answers will be made to the questions propounded to the question box. These disposed of, final adjournment, so far as the business sessions are concerned, will be taken.

Banquet at Driving Club.
After lunch the Club members again attended the baseball game at the Fulton County grounds, where the concluding feature of the convention takes place. It will be the Anniversary dinner given by The Southern States Life to the Anniversary Club at the Piedmont Driving Club. A most attractive array of speakers has been secured, and a most interesting program of subjects has been arranged. President Meador will respond to the toast, "The Anniversary Club—Success Commands Confidence." Joe W. Vinson will respond to the toast, "Our Company—No Mistakes to Correct—No Explanations to Make." Hugh N. McAfee will respond to the toast, "The Agency Force—The Builders of the Company." Colonel Robert J. Lowry, President of the Lowry National Bank, probably the best-known banker in the South, will respond to the toast, "The South: A Part of Her Growth and an Aid to Her Prosperity." Colonel Lowry is not only an able speaker, but one of the best-posted business men in the country. His talks are always attended with interest, and this time he has a subject of which he is indeed master. L. P. Hillyer, of Macon, Ga., a director of The Southern States Life, will respond to the toast, "A Leading Citizen—A Good Name Is Rather to Be Chosen Than Great Riches." Mr. Hillyer is Secretary of the Georgia Bankers' Association, and one of the leading citizens in the state. His subject promises to be one of the most interesting of the evening.

Splendid Toasts Planned.
Colonel F. J. Paxon, President of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and one of Atlanta's leading citizens, will respond to the toast, "Life Insurance—Its Influence on Commercial Activity." Colonel Paxon is a student of civic and economic problems. He is thoroughly at home in this realm, and his subject promises to be one of his best efforts. J. T. Weems, of McDonough, Ga., will respond to the toast, "The Vacant Chairs—To Those Who Were and Are Not." Mr. Weems is a writer as well as a speaker. His contributions to The Keystone have made him well known to those agents who have never had the pleasure of meeting him. He recently won second prize in the essay contest on "The Advance Premium Policy Written by The Southern States Life." Hon. Robert F. Maddox, Mayor of Atlanta, will respond to the toast, "Atlanta—An Insurance Center—The Hartford of the South." Mayor Maddox, as an after-dinner speaker, is par-excellence, and when he combines business and pleasure, as in this case, he will fairly eclipse himself, for it has been truly said of him, as an after-dinner speaker, "He wins where he wanders, and dazzles where he dwells."

Invited Guests.
Those invited to attend the banquet at the Driving Club tonight are the officers and members of the Anniversary Club, the officers and directors of The Southern States Life and three specially invited guests, who won their invitations through the excellence of their work for the company.

The first of these is W. E. Hubbard, of Locust Grove, Ga., who has been leader of the honor roll for every month of this year; W. H. Powell, of Lawrenceville, Ga., and C. O. Smith, of Spartanburg, S. C., agents whose names have appeared the greatest number of times on the state honor roll.

Personnel of Club.
It will be interesting to know something of the personnel of this Club, to which The Southern States Life points with pride, and to whom for two days they have been seeking to honor and entertain in every possible way. President William L. Meador, General Agent, Atlanta, is one of Atlanta's very own, being born and raised within the limits of this city. He joined the forces of The Southern States Life in December, 1908, and notwithstanding the fact that he had only five months in which to qualify as a member of the Anniversary Club before its next meeting, he did so. In other words, he did in five months that which many agents of this Company have never been able to do in twelve. Not only did he win a membership in the Anniversary Club in this short length of time, but he has won a membership the succeeding year, and, like Abou Ben Adhem, his name leads all the rest, and he is to be President of the Anniversary Club for the year 1910-11. In addition, Mr. Meador has been on the honor roll consecutively every month since he joined the Company. The honor roll is made up of the ten leading solicitors of The Southern States Life. During his first year with this company he wrote sufficient business to qualify as a member of the Anniversary Club and to be named Vice President, which position he has held consecutively since. Since the first of January he has led all solicitors in the volume of paid-for business written for this company. He is a regular member of the honor roll of this company and one of its brightest, most energetic and most progressive agents.

Strong Young Agent.
Hugh N. McAfee, General Agent, Atlanta, came with The Southern States Life in January, 1908, and between that date and April 30 he wrote sufficient business to qualify as a member of the Anniversary Club. He has remained a member of this Club ever since. Last year his record was such as to elect him president for the term just closing. Although he was outstripped for presidency, he was not eliminated from the contest, for he had written more business than was such as to give him a strong hold on the second vice presidency. A hustler, aggressive, with friends on all sides, he is one of the most energetic and hard working solicitors of The Southern States Life. David A. Leon, General Agent, Jacksonville, Fla., came with The Southern States Life in June, 1907, when he opened the state of Florida for The Southern States Life. After organizing the agency force for the state of Florida, he took up the work of General Agent at his present headquarters in June, 1909. This is the first year that he has devoted his entire business, and he has made the Anniversary Club on his first efforts. Hereafter he has devoted his energies to getting agents for The Southern States Life and teaching them how to produce. As an organizer he has few equals, and is considered one of the strongest men in the field. Fred Hines, General Agent, Lake City, S. C., came with the Company in 1907, and has made the Anniversary Club for two years. He is in charge of the eastern part of South Carolina, with headquarters at Lake City. He is making this section of South Carolina one of the strongest fields for The Southern States Life. He is a hustler from the word "go," and is making a splendid name for himself and a record for his company. G. J. McDowell, General Agent, Charleston, S. C., has been with the Company since September, 1906. He made the Anniversary Club at the time of its organization and has been one of its leading members ever since. He holds the record for having been on the honor roll more than any other agent writing business for this company. He operated in Georgia until January, 1909, when he went to Charleston, S. C., the home of his birth, and began to whoop-up life insurance in that city. He has made Charleston one of the strongholds of The Southern States Life, and is now looked upon as one of the best insurance men in South Carolina.

HUGH N. M'AFEE, Second Vice President.

B. B. Murray, General Agent, DeFuniak Springs, Fla., joined the forces of The Southern States Life in September, 1908. He is a consistent producer of paid-for business, and has developed an experienced corps of agents. He is a frequent member of the honor roll and has now joined the ranks of the Anniversary Club. Aggressive, systematic and persistent, he is developing the interests of The Southern States Life throughout his territory. L. S. Parrish, General Agent, for Southern Georgia, with headquarters at Nashville, Ga., became associated with The Southern States Life in April, 1908. By his hard work, painstaking efforts and persistence, although working a country field, he has made the Anniversary Club one of the leaders in this organization.

South Carolina Agent.
W. S. Ward, General Agent at Greenville, S. C., came with the Company in January, 1907. He has been a member of the Anniversary Club and has been a member of it continuously ever since. Like the other members of the Anniversary Club, he has worked indefatigably all day long, and has developed that section fully. J. T. Weems, General Agent, McDonough, Ga., holds the distinction of being the pioneer agent connected with The Southern States Life. He has been with The Southern States Life in August, 1906, following its organization some weeks previous. In addition to being a member of every Anniversary Club, and is almost a fixture in the honor roll. Ever since the first official organ of the Company he has been a constant producer. Not only is he a personal producer of paid-for business, but from an agency standpoint he holds the record of having the best agency force in the south. He is a frequent contributor to The Keystone, and his splendidly interesting paragraphs which he makes to an agent whenever seen. In addition to being an insurance man of note, Mr. Moore is one of the most prominent members of the Atlanta Players' Club, which ranks as the leading dramatic organization outside of New York City.

The history of the Anniversary Club of The Southern States Life Insurance Company but reflects the wonderful and substantial success of this company. Its history proves conclusively that a Southern life insurance company, backed by Southern capital, and conducted by Southern business men, can succeed in the South. Its position among the Southern insurance companies is a most enviable one, and it is from day to day growing in power and in prominence. The policy of The Southern States Life all along has been aggressive, conservative, straightforward and energetic. The record that it has made in having never contested a death claim speaks volumes for its solicitors, and the character of its policyholders. Its policies are among the most attractive written anywhere, and many contain features not to be secured by any other company. The personnel of The Southern States Life Insurance Company is made up of the strongest business men, connected with the new and growing South. Its officers and directors are as follows:

WILMER L. MOORE, President.
THOMAS D. MEADOR, Vice President.
FRANK ORME, Secretary and Treasurer.
JACKSON & ORME, Counsel.
JOS. H. WILLIAMS, Auditor.

VOTES FOR CONVICTION, THEN ASKS LIGHT SENTENCE

Following the rendering of a verdict of guilty against E. L. Young, a young white man charged with highway robbery, W. E. Barber, one of the jurors, who voted to declare the boy guilty, appealed to Judge J. S. Roan, asking that he make the sentence as light as he could.

"I voted against the boy," said the juror, "but I hated to do it. I have known him since he was a little bit of a fellow, and I knew his father before this boy was born and I have been friends with them all my life. I would like to ask your honor to be as lenient as possible."

Judge Roan publicly commended the action of Mr. Barber, speaking in highly commendatory terms of the unbiased manner in which the juror discharged his unpleasant duty and approving warmly his honest conception of duty, which caused him to cast a vote against the son of the man who was one of his oldest friends.

The judge imposed a sentence of four years only on Jones.

DISASTROUS FLOOD SWEEPS OVER GERMANY

Estimated That Over 200 Persons Lost Their Lives in the Valley of River Ahr.

Cologne, Germany, June 14.—It is estimated that 200 persons lost their lives in the flood that swept the valley of the River Ahr in the Eifel region.

Eighty-seven bodies had been recovered today. These were found along the river banks, tossed high by the flood or left stranded as the waters subsided.

The report received here today says that fifty lives were lost at the village of Schult, where a bridge which was crowded with persons watching the turbulent waters was carried away. Two barracks in which Italian and Cretan laborers were housed were swept away and their occupants, who were in their beds, were drowned. The railway was washed out and several villages were destroyed.

Five Stores Burned.

Hampton, Ark., June 14.—Fire of supposedly incendiary origin early today destroyed five business houses here. The losses, estimated at $30,000, with only a small amount of insurance. There is no clue to the pyromaniac.

Is Your Life Worth Living?

When the liver refuses to perform its functions of secreting bile, and the bowels become inactive and loaded with foul waste materials, the effect on the mind is most distressing. Gloomy forebodings drive out the sunshine. You are nervous and fretful. Life is not worth living. What ails you? It's your liver on a strike. Congested, torpid, sulky, it refuses to perform its functions.

What's to be done? Take one or two Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills after dinner and again at night. In the morning you will feel different. The sun will shine. What's the reason? Your liver has resumed business, that's all. These wonderful little pills have set it going. With clear brain, better appetite, you will enjoy life again. Take one occasionally for a week or so and your blood will be purged of impurities and its bright red flood will carry health to your finger tips. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR GA. STATE FAIR AT SAVANNAH TODAY

Executive Committee Holds Meeting. 500 Delegates Will Be in Attendance.

One of the features will be Ten Days of Home-Coming. Fair Will Be Opened With a Big Parade.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—At an executive committee meeting of the Georgia-state fair last night three or four features were fixed that will mean much for the enterprise. Tuesday following the opening of the fair on Wednesday will be Greater Macon day and the opening will consist of a parade in which every big factory, with a display of manufactured articles of merchandise and the laboring forces, will be seen in the streets. Every merchant of consequence will have floats in the line.

Reaching out from the local feature, an arrangement has been made for ten days of home-coming. Every person ever residing here, every native of Macon and all those having pride in the commercial upbuilding of the community, will be sought out and hailed back home to see what the strides have been. Secretary E. H. Hyman, of the chamber of commerce, now in charge of the publicity bureau for the fair, is placing a local office in the rooms of the chamber of commerce, and from this point many pieces of literature will be directed to tell of the enlarged fair and the state show that will be greater than anything in the former history of Macon and Georgia. Every former citizen will be reached.

NEWPORT LANFORD,
Incendiary Fires His Home.

the lattice work on the rear porch, Sergeant Lanford aroused the other members of his family and all left the building in safety.

The rear portion of the residence and a coal house in the yard were badly damaged, but the loss will be under $500.

From the condition of the burned woodwork and the fact that early in the year an intruder was routed from the premises, it is believed firmly by the detective department that some incendiary applied the torch.

TAFT TO REMAIN IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 14.—Because of the probability that next week may witness the end of the present congressional session, President Taft has decided not to start for New Haven Sunday night. If there should be a delay in congress, the president will go to New Haven Tuesday night to remain over Wednesday.

But if there is a pressure of business he will forego the privilege of seeing his son graduate.

GASOLINE LAUNCH EXPLODES AND SINKS

Occupants of Boat Rescued by the Crew of Another Launch.

Chicago, June 14.—A gasoline launch containing four men caught fire and sunk when the gasoline tank exploded. All the occupants were rescued by the occupants of another launch, which was a quarter of a mile distant when the explosion occurred.

County Officers' Association, Great Council of Red Men, and Georgia State Federation of Labor to Meet.

Savannah, Ga., June 14.—Three conventions of state-wide interest will go into session in Savannah tomorrow and all preparations for the reception of the guests for each of them have been completed.

The County Officers' Association will hold its meeting at Tybee, the Great Council of the Red Men of the state will meet at the Knights of Pythias hall and the Georgia State Federation before the Red Men and Odd Fellows hall.

There will be about 500 delegates to the three conventions. Each will be welcomed by a prominent citizen, Mayor Tiedeman delivering addresses before the Red Men and Odd Fellows.

VICE PRESIDENT CULP WILL SPEAK IN BERNE

To present a paper on "Suitable Methods for Developing Traffic in Perishables" before the eighth session of the International Railway Congress, which convenes in Berne, Switzerland, July 4, Vice President J. M. Culp, of the Southern Railway, sailed from Atlanta yesterday.

In his paper Mr. Culp will pay particular attention to a discussion of the advantages of precooling fruit and vegetables for shipment, a subject of great interest at the present time to the fruit and vegetable growing sections of the south. To inform himself fully on this subject Mr. Culp made a special trip to California, where he spent several weeks in investigation and study.

Mr. Culp was asked to prepare this paper by reason of his intimate knowledge of the subject as the head of the traffic department of the railway system which moves the greater part of the fruit and vegetable crops of the south.

The paper also will give complete details of refrigerator car arrangements for the transportation of fresh meat, dairy products, fish, eggs and beer. Pull statistics will be presented, and much interesting information concerning the progress of the last twenty years in this particular branch of transportation.

HENRY HEYWARD WALKER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Deceased Practiced Law All His Life in Fulton County.

At the advanced age of 87 years, Colonel Henry Heyward Walker, a lawyer well known among the older residents of Fulton county and north Georgia, died at noon yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary McAfee, 222 East Fair street.

Colonel Walker practiced law all his life in Fulton county, and was active up to a few months ago, when sheer old age forced him to give up all work. In his latter years he represented a large number of Cherokee Indians before the court of claims at Washington, and until so weak that he could no longer raise his voice or write with a pen, he fought for the rights of his clients. For the past few years he had lived with his daughter. The end was quite peaceful.

Besides his daughter, Colonel Walker is survived by three sons—W. H. Walker, of Chamblee, Ga.; Frank Walker, of Norcross, Ga.; and Charles Walker, of Waco, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The body will be taken to Chamblee, Ga., former home of the deceased, to be interred. Rev. Mr. King will officiate.

GOVERNOR REQUESTS HAWKINS' RESIGNATION

But Commissioner of Insurance of Texas Refuses to Resign.

Austin, Texas, June 14.—It became known today that Governor T. M. Campbell has requested the resignation of Commissioner of Insurance and Banking Hawkins and that the latter has refused to resign. The cause of the governor's request is not known. Governor Campbell yesterday addressed the following communication to Commissioner Hawkins:

"I hereby request your resignation as commissioner of insurance and banking."

"Immediately upon receipt of the letter Commissioner Hawkins began the preparation of a statement of what he advised the governor that he 'declined to resign.'"

In his statement Commissioner Hawkins maintains that he has not committed any offense 'requiring his resignation.'

APPROVAL OF FARRAR BRINGS ORDER FOR WHIMS

As the result of an advertisement appearing in The Constitution of May 12, H. L. Schlesinger, the well-known candy maker, has received from W. A. Wilselmann, of 204 Franklin street, New York City, an order for some of his famous "Whims." The order being sent as the result of Miss Gertrude Farrar's approval of same.

Mr. Wilselmann closes his letter by saying: "As Miss Farrar has left only friends in your city, they would probably be glad to know that Miss Farrar and Scott made a hit in their rendition of 'Tosca' at the Opera Comique in Paris, and the Parisians want them to stay in Paris and not all their Berlin engagement."

ATLANTA, GA. June 15, 1910.

Seems to be a Harmonious burrah in Ohio.

Of course, Cannon will roar welcome to Roosevelt.

If this is the month of roses they ought to swim out.

Great oversight: June 18 was not marked with red on the calendar.

If June is on a flowery car, she doesn't know how to handle the reins.

Airships will be at a premium if the whole country flies to meet Roosevelt.

Pinchot is hewing to the line and listening for an echo when the chips fall.

Won't miss congress, since the graduates have consented to join the country.

Think of asking a trust-oppressed people to pay $250,000 to revise a revision!

Most interesting feature of a congressional summary is the work it didn't do.

The college lads, home for vacation, may rejoice that the weather is too wet to plow.

No rest for congress. Even after it adjourns they will have to tell us what they were there for.

Senator Lorimer is noted for his politeness, but to a possible successor he isn't saying, "Be seated, please."

As to another party, the administration may reflect that a new brush whitewashes clean.

The statesman out of a job should invest in an aeroplane. There's more cash and less harm in cold air.

Ask President Taft of the condition of his party and he'll tell you—the college commencements are great!

Bears are breaking loose in Chicago; but with the signalling of T. R.'s ship they'll lie low in Wall Street.

"Jeff Davis should wake up," says The Texas Star. Not yet. The people have been promised a "sane Fourth."

The Taft smile is there again, for in view of the Colonel's coming, the photographer said: "Now, look pleasant, please!"

The big onion crop in Texas will come in on the home stretch after the numerous candidates have ordered drinks all round.

The men-birds speak in high praise of the room at the top, and they're also mighty glad that there's so much solid ground at the bottom.

Like the aviators the other high-flying brethren frequently have to alight, and telegraph for gasoline, propellers and spark-plugs.

Pinchot will never be clear of the woods. At present he's log-rolling for a new party, and inviting the laborers of the vineyard to the fence-fixing.

The Tammany Tiger shouldn't fear to join the merry-makers at the homecoming. It is too lean to be kidnapped for the Colonel's menagerie.

JUDGE CALLAWAY'S POWERFUL APPEAL.

If popular government in America is to endure, it must develop the ability, now lacking, to deal with the crime and the lawlessness that encroach upon its authority and menace its institutions.

That was the challenging premise-upon which Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta, based his address of yesterday to the alumni of the University of Georgia. Many remarkable orations have issued from this historic forum. In timeliness of theme, and in candor and fearlessness of development, the one delivered yesterday will stand out conspicuously.

Moral courage of a high order is required to arraign the commonly accepted procedure of government, in a search for relief from the crime and outlawry the steady increase of which no man may deny.

Yet that is the substance of Judge Callaway's argument, when he declares that government of, by and for the people is at this moment on trial; that if it cannot find a way to bring the murderer to punishment and to redeem the enforcement of law from mockery, it must eventually give way to some form of government that will do both.

His indictment was not confined to Georgia. When he quoted an authority as saying that the annual murder-roll in this state was forty-five more than the entire United Kingdom, he was scrupulous to qualify that Georgia is simply a typical American state.

When he goes on to show that in Georgia we have a homicide to the week, with about one conviction to the hundred—he shows that similar conditions prevail in other American commonwealths.

When he cited statistics to establish that lawlessness in Chicago made that of Paris, with all its melodramatic murders, seem trivial, and that race-riots and mob-rule were as indefensible in the north as the south, he completed a picture that outlined the problem as one of national proportions.

When he flayed rule-by-technicality-and-precedent, and the slackness generally of judicial procedure and efficiency, he stated a condition characterizing not one, but every American commonwealth.

Regarding Judge Callaway's analysis of causes—an excess of "democracy in government" and exposing the enforcement of law too intimately to influences originating in popular passions and prejudices—there will be much dispute of the sort made familiar since government in America has been of a bi-partite nature. The Constitution does not, at this time, undertake to challenge or affirm his theories.

The principal concern to us, and to every Georgian who takes seriously his civic responsibilities, is the sinister conditions he outlines. Touching its reality, and its enlarging threat, no intelligent citizen can enter denial.

It is visible in our courts and our jails, in the license with which the pistol-toter plies his deadly violations, in the rate at which murder advances and crime of every nature mounts higher—above all, in the contempt for law and established authority that creates in the mind of the law-abiding American the gravest of misgivings.

The remedy lies in the hands of the voter, the average citizen of Georgia and of other American states, as The Constitution has always insisted in scoring the same evils denounced by Judge Callaway.

And it is to the patriotism of this average Georgian, that has never failed in a crisis, that Judge Callaway addresses his final appeal.

The people have ever been equal to stern emergencies, once roused to a sense of their duties. They will exhibit a similar strength where the fundamentals of popular government are at stake.

THE COLONEL AND THE COUNTRY.

The United States of America at the present moment simulates quite the attitude of the small boy who can't go to sleep Christmas Eve for thinking of the next day.

And the colonel, returning as rapidly as a lusty steamship can plow the waves, is the "next day."

It is a remarkable tribute to the man's personality that virtually every element of citizenship in the country should be more or less on tiptoes in the excitement of anticipation.

No longer is it a question of what we will do with Bwana Tumbo.

Instead, it has become an uneasiness, intensified in political circles, as to what Bwana Tumbo will do with us.

This state of mind is shared equally by regular and insurgent, by old-line and progressive democrat, and by the genuine independent and the independent with partisan leanings.

It is likely, too, that the big man in the white house, notwithstanding a calm exterior, is concerned as keenly as the fledgling politician; unless, as some of the garrulous correspondents would have us believe, he has received private assurances of the friendship of Mr. Roosevelt.

National politics is, admittedly, in the melting pot. A slight tilt—and what seventh son, or prophetic seventh son of a seventh son, may predict the result?

Will the colonel, inadvertently or by design, supply the small impulse necessary to send the flux rolling into the channels of a new alignment?

On the other hand, will he, possibly as a compromise between his loyalty to Taft and his logical loyalty to the insurgent sentiment, religiously keep "hands off?"

Whether or not by design, Roosevelt has kept the shrewdest of the politicians guessing on this very interesting question. In his letters to congressmen, he seems to have been beautifully impartial.

If he mailed a "keep-a-going" epistle to an insurgent with one hand, he appears to have been pretty careful to post a similar one to a regular with the other.

One newspaper correspondent tells us the former president's absolute allegiance to Taft and the administration policies cannot be questioned.

Just when we have assimilated this impression, along comes Gifford Pinchot, king-bee of the insurgents and Fidos Achates to the colonel, with a sealed mouth, but also with that pleased sort of smile that even the dullest of individuals couldn't associate with a "turn-down."

Again—Roosevelt is a tolerably strict party man. Will he try to reconcile the warring republican factions, that promise at present to elect a democratic house next fall?

Altogether, it is one of the most piquant and unique situations that ever sat astride American politics.

Candidly, the colonel has set a puzzle before the entire nation, and it is racking the gray matter of the politically wise as well as the wits of the political kindergartners.

Every one waits for the colonel to speak, confident that the colonel will pass the tabasco.

But in doing it, will he piece together or drive further apart the remnants of the republican party?

That's the question!

REGARDING "THE COLD WORLD."

At this season, paragraphs and humorists concentrate their energies on the cocksure youths who pass out of college and university walls into the "cold world."

There is enough truth in the spectacle to give the average commencement a tinge of sadness, and, despite its exaggeration, to cause a good many thoughtful Americans to quarrel with our system of higher education as at present conducted.

Shall we introduce more of the heaven of practicability into our colleges?—using the word "colleges," of course, in a broad sense.

This, in its turn, brings up the ancient debate regarding the "self-made man" and the university graduate.

In the excitement of the discussion one important element—the question of public sentiment—seems to have been forgotten. And it is public sentiment that decides these issues in the long run.

Judging from this angle, the people of America want a blend of what is known as the "higher" education, along with practical education—that sort which equips men and women to wrestle with actual rather than academic problems the moment they leave college doors.

Witness the manner in which the public divides its contributions between endowments and extensions for the classical university, pure and simple, and for the institution that aspires no higher than to turn out men who will almost at once become dividend-makers.

Here in Georgia it is not difficult to secure endowments for an institution devoted to sheerly academic education. And it is equally easy to touch public generosity in the matter of contributions toward technical and trade schools.

Whether the blend of which we speak is to occur within the walls of one of two educational plants is a harder question. Sentiment is still too largely in process of readjustment to make an answer easy.

But we believe, in the last analysis, that a little calm investigation will disclose that a good deal of commiseration is wasted with regard to the "cold world" business.

While there is, perhaps, necessity for practicalizing the curriculum of the average university, or broadening it, as many colleges are rapidly doing, we have seen as many of the graduates of the "university of hard knocks" gather a harvest of icicles as the most medantic and highly trained individuals that ever passed from the class-room to the world's rough-and-tumble.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

"The Colonel's Comin'."

Colonel's comin'! Give us rope! Trouble now disarm!
Ring the joyous bells of Hope, spring the fire alarm!

All the bands and boys are hummin':
"Colonel's comin'! Colonel's comin'!"

Tribulation now no more on the rack shall try us;
But no welcome drapes the door of the Ananias!

All the animals are hummin':
"Low—lie low! The Colonel's comin'!"

Big stick—it'll swing ag'in: Wonder where he'll lodge it?
His it is to strike the blow; it is yours to dodge it!

Even the bass drum-thunder's hummin':
"Low—lie low! The Colonel's comin'!"

Mapping Their Route.

"Which way will the big trust fellows go when this old life is o'er, and the ferryboat is waiting for the far and shadowy shore?" So the campaign speaker asked them, pausing that he might learn; and a fellow in the crowd cried loud: "Well, they've got money to burn!"

If Your Soul Is Keyed in Tune.

Any weather's welcome, if yer soul is keyed in tune—
Blizzards of December or the reckless rains of June;
We own the sun, good people—have a mortgage on the moon,
And acres in the happy fields of Eden!

Any weather's welcome, if you only know the way
To breathe the breath of blossoms—feel the glory of a day!
A brother to the sunshine, and reapin' every ray
From acres in the happy fields of Eden!

Tragedy in Dry Town.

"Yes, sir, the fish was so big it pulled him in the river."
"And he was drowned?"
"No, but he might's well have been, fer he lost his grip on his gallow-jug, and it floated down stream, and he lives in a dry county!"

"Keep the Faith."

Round an' round de ol' worl' go—
Keep de faith, believers!
Summer heat or winter snow—
Keep de faith, believers!

Keep right on in de way you gwine—

Keep de faith, believers!

De blackest sinner kin rise an' shine—

Keep de faith, believers!
Keep de faith, 'twel de trumpet sound!
An' de big stars fall, an' de sky come down,
An' you'll git ter glory an' wear de crown—
Keep de faith, believers!

Gossip at the Capitol

Rate Hearing Today.

The railroad commission will begin an investigation this morning into the charge that the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad is charging a higher rate on freight shipments from Atlanta to Chattanooga than is being charged from Chattanooga to Nashville.

The petition for an investigation into the rates was filed by Harry T. Moore, traffic manager of the Atlanta Freight Bureau. The rates involved are on classes 1 to 6.

He Liked Atlanta.

McKenzie R. Todd, former secretary of Governor Willson, of Kentucky, passed through Atlanta yesterday on his way to Florida and paid a visit to Major A. H. Ulm, secretary to Governor Brown.

"I have heard so much of Atlanta and Georgia that I wished to see the town once in my life," said Mr. Todd, "and I am not disappointed. Up in Kentucky we think Atlanta is about the best town outside of the Blue Grass state, and we would like to annex it if the necessary arrangements could be made."

Professor Derry Visits Home.

Professor Joseph T. Derry, historian and assistant in the state department of agriculture, has gone to Macon for a few days, where he will visit his family and friends in his home town. He will return to Atlanta early next week.

Lieutenant Franklin Wright, of Savannah, father of Captain Robert F. Wright, assistant commissioner of agriculture, has arrived in Atlanta and will spend the summer with his

CROWS EAT THE BAIT

OFF FISHERMEN'S LINES

Hitherto Uninvaded Fields Are Invaded by the Carnivorous Birds.

Covington, La., June 14.—Crows have invaded a hitherto uninvaded field. The field is liquid and crows are carnivorous, according to reports from many fishermen in this section.

Crab fishermen, it is declared, along the shores of Lake Pontchartrain have left their baited lines, only to find on their return empty hooks. Several fishermen standing guard in an effort to discover the secret of the unbaited hooks, witnessed the raising of the lines and the devouring of the bait by crows. They have borrowed scarecrows from corn fields and placed them on the water.

city.

Commissioner Hudson Goes Home.

Commissioner of Agriculture T. G. Hudson has gone to Americus, where he will attend the funeral of Attorney Howell Simmons, who died in that city Monday. Mr. Simmons was one of the most prominent attorneys of south Georgia, and his death is universally lamented. Mr. Hudson will return to Atlanta next Monday.

OVER BURYING OF CHILD DIVORCE SUIT IS FILED

In a suit for divorce R. S. Wagner charges that his wife, Hattie Wagner, disinterred without his knowledge the body of their child after he had it decently buried in the cemetery of Atlanta, and had the body taken to the undertaking establishment preparatory to sending the corpse to Athens, Ga., before he even knew that the first interment had not been satisfactory to her.

The petition states further that the plaintiff was forced to borrow money to defray the expenses of the second interment, and that when he told his wife that she was doing wrong to treat him so, she "flew into one of her tantrums and struck him a severe blow on the arm with a new ax handle," after which she left his house and has remained away ever since.

Divorce hearings were concluded yesterday and all the plaintiffs departed joyously with Judge J. T. Pendleton's blessing. About thirty cases were disposed of and there was "short shrift" for erring husbands, the complaining wives being freed just as quickly as verdicts could be signed.

Judge Pendleton—this is stated without authority, based on observation—believes in divorces, anyway, for those who are inclined to weep, if necessary, to get it. Monday when a certain case was called the woman went to the witness stand, where she recounted her grievances, concluding with a tearful eyes and a shaky voice that "if anybody ever deserved a divorce," she did. Whereupon the judge, in a soothing voice, such as one would use to a child, told her: "Madame, I assure you you shall have it—you shall have it; don't worry," and amid the smiles of the court room the verdict was granted.

W. C. Smith, a young white boy, 19 years old, was arraigned before Judge L. S. Roan yesterday on two charges—forgery and larceny from the house, he having stolen from H. L. Banta's pool room a check for $25, which he indorsed and cashed. The boy pleaded guilty to the charge and the mercy of the court was asked, because of the boy's youth and because of the frailty of his aged parents.

Judge Roan made the sentence a light one, imposing a fine of $100 or in default of payment, six months in the county jail. In addition he sentenced the boy to 12 months on the public works, but suspended the sentence.

Claiming that his wife made faces and grimaces at him and threatened to kill him, H. K. White filed suit for divorce yesterday against Julia White, charging further that she nagged and slurred him, accused him of ungentlemanly conduct, using loud and profane language.

Alleging that her husband "maltreated" her with a pistol, threatening to kill her and driving her away from home, Dora Giles filed a petition for divorce yesterday against Foster Giles, and added further that the defendant tried to cut her with a razor.

E. T. Petree, as head of the family, brought suit yesterday against W. A. Payne, a constable in the 46th district, charging that he levied unlawfully on property after a homestead exemption had been shown to him.

C. D. Hill, solicitor general of Fulton superior court, brought a writ petition yesterday against the mayor of College Park for the validation by publication of the recent bond issue of $50,000.

Judge J. T. Pendleton granted a charter yesterday to The Southern Investment Company, John A. Perdue, J. Wallace Hoyt and John R. Boykin being the incorporators. Capital stock, $25,000.

S. O. Vickers, J. R. Dyson and W. O. Jones made application yesterday for a charter under the name of the Houston-Ivy Realty Company. Capital stock, $150,000.

The George W. Muller Manufacturing Company filed a petition yesterday to regain possession of a lot on Roseland street, 58 by 157 feet, which the petition says is now held by George W. Muller and Mrs. Julia Muller.

Mrs. Lula King filed a suit for $10,000 damages yesterday against the Georgia Railway and Electric Company for injuries received through the alleged negligence of a motorman and conductor of the company in starting a car too soon. A supplementary suit for $2,500 was filed by her husband, Samuel King.

H. H. Harp filed a petition in the city court against the Central of Georgia Railroad Company for injuries received, so the petition states, by the train starting off before he had time to alight at his station.

The case of Hollister Brothers, of Chicago, against Bluthenthal & Bickert, of Atlanta, is now being tried in Judge H. M. Reid's court, the plaintiff contending that the defendant owes them for advertising matter furnished to the Tokaway Hotel Company on the guarantee of Bluthenthal & Bickert.

King Brothers & Co., one of the money-lending firms recently indicted by the grand jury for various practices, yesterday filed a suit in the superior court against the Central of Georgia Railway and R. E. Weeks, an employee of the road, asking judgment for $3875, which, the petition claims, was assigned to the money-lenders by Weeks. The railway company has refused to turn over the money and is therefore included in the suit.

A. McDade Wilson, A. P. Stewart, George W. Scoville, Lucian Harris, F. W. Stokes and E. A. Coplan filed application for a charter yesterday under the name of the Georgia Burial Association. The object of the organization will be pecuniary gain and the capital stock is named at $50,000.

Mrs. Josie Payton, who has already been before the court several times in connection with litigation over the possession of her child, yesterday filed suit for divorce from her husband, W. C. Payton, alleging cruelty, neglect and abandonment.

Salie Humphrey filed suit yesterday against District Grand Lodge No. 18, G. U. O. O. F., of the American Jurisdiction of Georgia, asking that the court order $300 paid which she says is due her for the lodge on an endowment certificate taken out by her husband, Isaac Humphrey. The petition states that the money is being withheld by B. J. Davis, district grand secretary, and H. L. Johnson, attorney for the order, and charges fraudulent intent.

Mrs. Charlie Crabtree entered suit for divorce yesterday against her husband, W. M. Crabtree, alleging not only that he neglected her and refused to support her, but that he spent his money for near beer and called "on lady friends in the guise of a single man."

Suit for $1,000 damage was filed yesterday by Orlie H. Henry against the Georgia Railway and Electric Company.

The hearing of the Bigby will case was concluded yesterday in the ordinary court, but the judge's decision has not been rendered yet.

MACGRATH RETURNS TO AMERICAN HOME

Harold MacGrath will land in San Francisco on June 17 world-weary from his globe-trotting. It's taken him eighteen months to draw a circle round the world, a record which Phineas Fogg would have sneered at.

But then MacGrath has not been after speed records. Local color was his quarry. His aim was for to admire and for to see, for to be old this world so wide, and no doubt he has recorded his admirations and impressions in note books or on the memorial tablets of his mind, all for romantic use later. France, Italy, Greece, Turkey.

DISMISS CHARGES AGAINST MRS. FORD

Was the Woman in the Case of Chas. L. Warriner, Defaulting Railroad Cashier.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 14.—Formal dismissal of the charges of lunacy against Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford, "The Woman in the Case," of Charles L. Warriner, defaulting local treasurer of the Big Four railway, was entered in the probate court of Hamilton county today.

The dismissal of the lunacy charges leaves Mrs. Ford free to sue for formal charges and indictments growing out of the Warriner case. She is under the care of an alienist selected by the county prosecutor.

WELL-KNOWN FARMER IS ASSASSINATED

Searching for Property of Neighbors Believed to Have Been Cause of His Death.

Ashdown, Ark., June 14.—L. W. Deloney, one of the best known farmers of southwest Arkansas, was assassinated near here last night as he lay in bed asleep by unknown parties who fired two charges from a shotgun into his body.

Deloney recently had a quantity of meat stolen and under a warrant the property of several white men was searched. This, it is believed, was the direct cause of the tragedy.

The people of this section are greatly excited and it is feared trouble will result if the assassin is captured.

JAPS ORDERED OUT OF WASHINGTON TOWN

Foreign Laborers at Darrington Are Forced to Take Train for Seattle.

Darrington, Wash., June 14.—A mob of 100 white men yesterday ordered all the Japanese laborers employed in the plant of the United States Lumber Company to leave town, and after giving the foreigners time to get together their effects accompanied them to the station and saw them board a train for Seattle.

CITY NEWS

R. L. Spinks Is Ill.—R. L. Spinks, for a long time a well known grocer in Atlanta, located on Whitehall street and in West End, but whose health forced his retirement a year ago, now seriously ill at his home, 121 Garnett street.

No Session of Court.—There was no session of the United States district court yesterday, recess being taken for the day because Judge Newman wished to go to Athens to attend the graduation exercises at the State University. Judge Newman's son is in the graduating class. Court will be reconvened this morning at the usual hour.

J. H. Stiff in City.—J. H. Stiff, a long-time resident of Atlanta, is in the city visiting his family for a few days. While Mr. Stiff still calls Atlanta his home, he is away the greater part of his time, rarely getting back more than three or four times a year. He is now traveling in the extreme south and southwest for one of the largest music houses in the country.

Nat Kaiser at Home.—Nat Kaiser, well-known Atlanta jeweler, located in the Kimball House block, has returned from New York, where he has been for the past two or three weeks visiting his brother, Mr. Kaiser's health has been anything but satisfactory for the past five or six months and his trip east was for the rest and vacation from business.

Confess to Theft.—Fifteen-year-old Tim Brooks, of 106 Park avenue, confessed to Detective Dorsett and Wood yesterday his guilt in burglarizing the Stoddard Dry Cleaning establishment on Peachtree street two weeks ago and stealing about $40 worth of clothes. Ed Henderson, another young white boy, is held as Brooks' accomplice, although the latter says that he was alone in the burglary.

Children Are Defective.—More than half the pupils in the city schools of Atlanta have some physical defect, more or less pronounced, according to the report of Dr. Stewart R. Roberts, city school medical inspector, which has just been submitted to Mayor Maddox. Dr. Roberts resigned some time ago and was succeeded by Dr. R. G. Stephens, but his report covers the work done by him and his assistants during the past few months.

Tax on Beer Saloons.—That a little thing like an increase of $100 in the tax on near beer saloons doesn't terrify prospective owners thereof is indicated by the fact that when the police committee of council meets in special session this afternoon there will be about 150 applications for near beer license to be passed upon. ABSENT SENATORS HURT DEMOCRACY

Representation on Tariff Board Is Lost.

Only Two Other Democratic Senators Were Present Besides Bacon and Clay When the Former Introduced Important Amendment.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, June 14.—(Special).—Because democratic senators were not in their seats the interests of the party suffered seriously by the senate's action yesterday in regard to the appointment of a tariff board. Senator Bacon offered an amendment requiring both parties to be represented on the board. The motion was put and only four democratic senators were there to vote for it.

On of them was Senator Clay. The two Georgians are always in their places, alive, alert and conscientious in the discharge of the duties which they are depended upon to perform. Though the democratic strength in the senate is presumably thirty-one, only fourteen democratic senators are in the city. A half-dozen are really ill. The rest have deserted their posts to escape the tedium of the railroad and tariff debates. Their absence today was a serious blow to the party.

Georgia Senators Charged.
The two Georgia senators could not conceal their chagrin and disappointment. The failure of the Bacon amendment means that the president may appoint all the members of the tariff board from his own party if he chooses to do so.

The question of agreeing to the amendment was voted on by a viva voce vote. The four democrats were overwhelmed and could not muster enough numerical strength for a roll call, so the day was lost ignominiously.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS IN SESSION TODAY

Annual Meeting Will Be Held at the New Kimball House.

The annual meeting of the Georgia Funeral Directors' Association will be held at the New Kimball this morning, when it is expected that 300 well-known embalmers of this and neighboring states will be present. From all indications, this will eclipse all former gatherings.

The advance guard, including the five members of the Georgia State Board of Embalmers, arrived in the city yesterday. This board meets annually just before the meeting of the state association, the meeting this year being held at the understanding establishment of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield, Mr. Bond being a member of the board and also president of the association. The board received over twenty-five applications for embalming licenses, the applicants being put through the customary test.

The association will be in session for two days, and addresses by many noted embalmers and interesting demonstrations will be made. The Atlanta funeral directors have arranged an excellent program for the entertainment of the visitors. At the opening meeting Mayor Robert F. Maddox and President Bond will deliver addresses of welcome.

Thursday afternoon the members of the association will attend a Georgia barbecue arranged at Cold Springs by the Atlanta directors. That evening a banquet will be held.

DR. DANFORTH REFUSES BIG OFFER FOR ESTATE

Dr. A. R. Danforth, who dropped the practice of medicine in Atlanta to live on his magnificent farm up the Southern, at Pittman, some eighteen miles from Atlanta, has just refused an offer of $50,000 for his place of 600 acres, with a mile frontage on the railroad track. On the place is one of the finest young peach orchards in Georgia, and from it Dr. Danforth is now beginning to get a good yield.

"I have no desire to dispose of the place," said the doctor yesterday, after receiving the offer. "Certainly not at the figures indicated. Six months ago I refused $30,000 spot cash, the offer coming from a farmer up in the north-west who wanted to split it up into four farms, to be cultivated by himself and three friends who were coming with him. Only a few months ago he increased that offer by a few thousand, and again I refused. I don't care to sell, as I have one of the finest plantations in the state."

CABANISS SENTENCE AFFIRMED BY COURT

Unless Governor Interferes, Mr. Cabaniss Must Serve Sentence.

In a decision handed down yesterday, the court of appeals affirmed the verdict of twelve months at the state farm at Milledgeville and a fine of $500 imposed upon J. W. Cabaniss, former president of the Exchange bank of Macon, for alleged mismanagement of the affairs of that institution.

It was alleged in the indictment found by the grand jury of Bibb county that Mr. Cabaniss, as president of the Exchange bank, had declared a dividend of 3 per cent upon the capital stock of the bank, the payment being made from the capital stock and other funds, and not from the net profits arising from the revenues of the institution.

Cabaniss was convicted and sentenced to serve twelve months at the state farm and to pay a fine of $500. The case was appealed, with the result stated.

In deciding the case the court says: "It is very clear from the testimony and it is practically undisputed," declares the court, "that this bank had been carrying upon its books as live assets stocks, notes and accounts which for a long period of time had been rendered them absolutely worthless, amounting to $240,000. Had they been charged off they would have not only impaired its capital, as far back as June 30, 1905, the $50,000 capital stock, according to the expert accountant, had been impaired as much as $140,000. It is inconceivable that the president of the institution could have remained in touch with affairs and not have been cognizant of what was going on."

Unless the governor should interfere Mr. Cabaniss will be compelled to serve the sentence imposed by the court.

To Seek Pardon.
Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special).—An immediate move for a pardon for former President J. W. Cabaniss, of the Exchange bank will be made in Macon and throughout the state. The announcement here this morning that the supreme court had affirmed the finding of the lower court and refused a new trial was taken with deep regret by many strong friends.

Mr. Cabaniss has one year on the state prison farm. Within ten days' time the remittitur of the supreme court will be here, and made the order of the superior court. It is believed circumstances peculiar to the case and the surroundings will make it possible to have the prison sentence removed so that the fine of $1,000 will be the only remaining portion of the sentence which will have to be met.

More than a year ago Mr. Cabaniss was convicted in Bibb superior court of having declared a dividend of the Exchange bank over his signature as president when the institution had not earned the fund.

SOCIETY

To Miss Hall and Mr. Robertson.
Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Howard entertained at buffet supper last evening in honor of Miss Hall, the lovely young daughter of Mrs. Lyman Hall, whose marriage to Mr. Robertson, of Charleston, takes place tonight. The guests included the attendants, the immediate families, and the out-of-town guests to the wedding.

In the reception hall, where foliage plants were used as a decorative background, there was a luxuriant display of flowers—roses, wisteria and peonies. In the drawing room, where Mr. and Mrs. Howard received their guests, there were decorations in carnations, and in the dining room marguerites were used on all sides. The table from which the sweet of the delicious repast were served had as centerpiece a heart-shaped plateau of daisies. The candlesticks had their shades in yellow, and the bonbons were in white and yellow.

Mrs. Howard wore a becoming toilet in black spangled net. Miss Hall was lovely in white, and Mrs. Snow, who is receiving a cordial welcome from her Atlanta friends, wore a reception gown of pink silk. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Whaley, of Charleston; Mrs. Robertson, Mr. Elmore, Mr. Jennings Porter, Mr. Adger and Mr. Henry Robertson.

July House Party.

Miss Lulu Dean Jones will have as her guest the first week in July Miss Nelson Chambliss, of Chattanooga, who was a classmate at Chevy Chase. At the same time, Mr. Harrison Jones, who graduates the last of the month from the law school at the University of Michigan, will have as his guests two college friends, Mr. Karl Goddard, of Chicago, and Mr. Jack Brantley, of Hopkinsville, Ky.

Their visit will be the occasion of much gaiety and entertaining among the college set.

To Bridal Party.
Miss Grace Mauck entertained delightfully at buffet supper last night in compliment to the attendants of the wedding tonight. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Petty, inviting a few friends to meet them.

The house was decorated with ferns and daisies, and in the dining room the table was a pretty picture in yellow and white. The centerpiece was a brass jardiniere of daisies, and daisy chains were festooned from the chandelier to the corners of the table.

Miss Mauck was becomingly gowned in white mull and lace, and Miss Rose Mauck wore blue silk embroidered.

Klasset-Roberts.
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Klasset announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise, to Boyce Eldon Roberts, which took place Thursday evening at 7 p. m. at the residence of the bride's parents, 314 Luckie street. It was a very quiet affair, on account of illness in the groom's family.

After the ceremony, delicious refreshments were served in buffet form. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are at home to their friends at No. 41 Irwin street.

Groover-Smith.

Mrs. S. M. Smith, of Columbus, Ga., announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary, to Mr. Marshall E. Groover, of Cumming, Ga. The wedding took place September 14, 1909, and was kept a secret until a few days ago. The marriage ceremony was performed at the residence of Mrs. F. M. Robinson, 172 Forrest avenue, Atlanta, Ga., by the Rev. Dr. Pendleton, pastor of the Christian church, of this city.

Buffet Supper.

The attendants for the wedding tonight of Miss Lillian Mitchell and Mr. Lucius McConnell were delightfully entertained last night by Mrs. Russell C. Mitchell at her home on North Boulevard.

The several large reception rooms were handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and pink roses, and a delicious buffet supper was served.

Mrs. Mitchell was gowned in black crepe de chine embroidered. Miss Mitchell wore yellow meshine with an overdress of embroidered net and gold passementerie. Miss Lillian Mitchell wore blue silk mull and lace. Mrs. Willis Timmons was gowned in pink satin.

Garner-Boyle.

Miss Jessie Mae Garner and Mr.

Julian R. Boyle were married on the 12th of June at the home of Rev. H. J. Williams. The ceremony was witnessed by several friends. Miss Garner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Garner, and Mr. Boyle is a well-known business man. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle will go to Tybee for ten days.

Euchre Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Harding gave a pretty card party of twenty-four guests last night in compliment to Miss Abel, of Indianapolis, the guest of Miss Angle Harding, and Miss Alma Edelmann, a bride-elect.

White and gold were the colors observed in the decorative details. The prizes were a hand-painted ring holder and a silver cigar cutter. The guests of honor were presented lace jabots.

Mrs. Harding was gowned in cream silk and lace, made lingerie style, over pink silk, and Mrs. C. Perkins, assisting in entertainment, wore white silk.

Miss Bostrom's Supper.

Miss Mary Bostrom was hostess last night at buffet supper, the occasion a pretty compliment to Miss Willie B. Jones, Mr. Walter Massengale, and their attendants.

The house was attractively decorated with ferns and pink roses, and the supper was a dainty one.

Miss Bostrom was gowned in white satin, and she was assisted in entertaining by her guest, Miss Livermore, of Providence, who wore a lace gown over lavender satin.

To Mrs. Kiser.

A beautiful occasion yesterday was the dinner in honor of Mrs. Sarah Kiser, at the home of her son, Mr. Gordon P. Kiser, on Peachtree street, the occasion celebrating her eighty-third birthday.

The party included children and grandchildren, and was a very happy reunion. The dinner table was attractively decorated with pink and sweet peas and a feature was a birthday cake in star shape with sixteen candles burning. One of the toasts to the honor guest was an explanation of the cake, the star symbolizing Mrs. Kiser as a center of her family's affection, and the sixteen candles suggesting what is to them her perennial youthfulness.

Another token of admiration lay in the flowers which filled her room, the gifts of relatives and friends.

To Mrs. French.

Mrs. George Winship's luncheon yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Stewart French was a pretty affair. The dining club, the guests including Mr. Howard Palmer, Mrs. W. M. Crumley, Mrs. O. B. Blackburn, of New York; Mrs. R. F. Maddox, Mrs. H. S. Jackson, Mrs. B. K. Rambo, Mrs. W. R. Prescott, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Mrs. Laura Wyatt, Mrs. John W. Hughes, Mrs. W. M. Nixon, Mrs. M. Harralson, Mrs. Millard Nutting.

They were seated at a table artistic in white and green, its centerpiece a plateau of daisies and ferns. The silver candlesticks had green and silver shades, and the cakes and ices carried the prevailing colors.

Mrs. Winship was gowned in black tulle silk embroidered, and her black hat was trimmed with plumes. Mrs. French wore blue foulard, and her lace hat was trimmed with black plumes.

Old-Time Tea Party.

"Tea party of yore, old time," which will be given at Battle Hill Friday night, June 17, 8 p. m., promises to be a great success. Already a large audience is assured and much interest is being manifested.

"The Old Dutch Bucket" sung as a quartet by Mrs. Ralph Cooper, Mrs. W. T. Mooney, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Stevens, is well worth the price of admission.

Among those who recite are Mrs. Mooney, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. McGee, Miss Sessie Chambers, Mrs. Emma Brown, Mrs. Driver and Mrs. Enge.

To Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Butler entertained ten guests at dinner last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Butler, of Buffalo, who are here the guests of Mrs. A. M. Robinson.

The table was on the terrace and beautifully decorated in gladioli in the rose shades. Mr. and Mrs. Butler returned Thursday and will sail for Europe later, where they will spend the summer.

Dinner-Dance Saturday Night.

The dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club Saturday night will assemble a congenial party of people, a number of club members having already made reservations for their tables. These reservations must be made not later than Friday, as no orders will be taken on Saturday. Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock and the menu will be an especially good one. Music will continue during the entire evening.

Automobile Party.

Miss Jennie English entertained at an automobile party Monday evening for Miss Patsie May Ottley, who is home from school for the summer. The guests were a group of the "rose bud set" in society and included, besides Miss Ottley, Miss Mary Traylor, Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Esther Smith, Miss Corrie Hoyt Brown. After a ride the party assembled on the terrace for tea and sandwiches.

The Alpha Kappa Psi Reception. The members of the Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity, who are in session here at the Piedmont Hotel, were delightfully entertained by Miss Lorena White, who is a member of the fraternity, at a reception yesterday.

The guests assembled after the matinee, at which they were the guests of Miss Regina Rambo, who, as secretary of the Society, is presiding over the sessions of the convention in the absence of the president, Miss Thomas, of Raleigh, N. C.

The color scheme of Miss White's hospitable home was white and green and there was a wilderness of white flowers of all kinds with a background of woodland foliage and house plants. Smilax decorated the chandeliers, the arched doors and windows, and was on the table in the dining room, where the sweets of a delicious luncheon were served. In the center of the table was a plateau of white flowers fringed with ferns. The silver candlesticks had their shades of green and silver flitgreen, and all the detail appointments were white and green.

In the receiving line with Mrs. White were her mother, Mrs. W. D. White, and Miss Regina Rambo, of Marietta.

Miss White wore a white chiffon gown, embroidered. Mrs. White wore white and Miss Rambo wore a lingerie gown of mull and lace. Assisting in entertaining were Miss Riley, of Macon, and Miss Tate, of Jasper, Ga.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Whitaker, Miss Coleman, Miss Owens, Miss Boykin, Miss Childs, Miss Gibbs, Miss Brown, Miss Walker, Miss Traylor, Miss Little, Miss Lila Worthington, Miss Miller.

There will be a banquet at the Piedmont Hotel today, which will conclude the social side of the convention.

Miss Walker's Tea.

Miss Katherine Walker's afternoon tea on Friday at her home on Peachtree road will be a compliment to her guest, Miss Nannie Gregory, of Virginia, who will arrive Thursday.

Assisting in entertainment will be Mrs. R. M. Walker, Mrs. Florence, Mrs. Snow of Kansas City, Mrs. Chesley Howard, Mrs. W. A. Speer, Mrs. E. L. Seely, Miss Josephine Stoney, Miss Sue Hallman, Miss Alma Hunnicutt, Miss Taylor Payne, Miss Lillian Loran, Miss Margaret Wright, Miss Sara Cowles, Misses Penelope and Frances Clarke, Miss Willie Williford, Miss Mary King.

Bridge Series.

Mrs. W. R. Polk gave two pretty card parties yesterday at her home on North Jackson street, entertaining twenty-four ladies on each occasion.

A wealth of June flowers filled the house with their brightness and fragrance, every available space having its decoration of sweet peas and roses, daisies, poppies and nasturtiums, and the game, both morning and afternoon, was followed by an elaborate luncheon.

In the morning the prizes, silk stockings and a brass fern jar, were won by Mrs. Leon Daniel and Mrs. R. M. Calloway.

In the afternoon the prizes were brass jardiniere, and they were won by Mrs. John M. Cooper and Miss Virginia Parks.

Mrs. Polk wore a becoming gown of grass linen in the linen color, embroidered.

Miss Bessie Welsiger, a bride-elect, was guest of honor at the afternoon party, and she wore a light blue silk and lace gown, with a white Neapolitan straw hat, trimmed with blue ribbon and pink roses.

To Miss Gregory.

Miss Annie Downing will give a matinee box party Saturday for Miss Katherine Walker's guest, Miss Nannie Gregory, of Virginia.

Others entertaining will be Mrs. W. A. Speer and Miss Sue Hallman.

COUNTY UNIT SYSTEM FOR SIXTH DISTRICT

Attempt at Majority Plan Fails.

W. M. Howard Chairman Executive Committee.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special).—The county unit system will prevail in the Sixth congressional district contest this year. An effort was made by Judge A. L. Miller to have the majority plan established, at the democratic committee meeting, but some did not want to change from the established rule.

This custom gives each county two votes for each member of the legislature. Bibb will have six, Monroe four and the other nine counties two each. W. M. Howard was made chairman of the executive committee and the next session will be held at Indian Springs on September 1.

Candidates for congress were present, but remained on the outside of the superior court room, where the committee meetings were held.

Carolina Teachers Meet.
Asheville, N. C., June 14.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly held its opening session here today with an attendance of nearly 600 teachers. START INVESTIGATION OF PLUMBING TRUST

So-Called Combination Said to Have Various Ramifications.

Washington, June 14.—What is commonly designated the plumbing trust is under investigation by the department of justice. The so-called combination has various ramifications, and one feature of it has been popularly called the hardware or the bathtub trust. The attorney general said today he was not prepared to announce whether any prosecutions would grow out of the investigation.

Numerous complaints have been made, alleging generally the existence of a combination to maintain prices. One of these was to the effect that as a result of the operations of the trust jobbers who sold to retailers at cut prices were cut off from plumbers' supplies.

The Governor of Buenos Ayres Among Those Who Lose Their Lives—All of the Crew and Passengers Drowned Except Five.

Willemstad, Curacao, June 14.—The government schooner Van Herdt has been wrecked on the northeast coast of Curacao. The captain, crew and passengers, with the exception of four sailors and one passenger, were drowned. The lost include the governor of Buenos Ayres.

The Van Herdt was bound for this port from Buenos Ayres, a Dutch West Indian Island on the Venezuelan coast, 30 miles east of the Island of Curacao. She struck during thick weather of Sunday night. News of the disaster was brought here by the five survivors.

BIG DEAL MADE IN COTTON MILLS

Marshall Field & Co. Purchases Several Factories at Spray, N. C.

Charlotte, N. C., June 14.—Probably the largest deal in cotton mill stocks that has ever been made in the south, has just been consummated by which Marshall Field & Co., of Chicago, secure the controlling interest in several mills at Spray, this state.

The purchase includes the control of the American Warehousing Company, mammoth finishing plant, warehouses, etc.; the Spray Woolen Mills, one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the world; the Laidley Mills, the Rhode Island Company and the Nantucket Mills. Through the deal, Field & Co. acquire control of practically all the manufacturing plants at Spray except three, those being the Spray Cotton Mills, the Morehead Cotton Mills and the Leaksville Cotton Mills.

The cotton mills involved in the deal are offered and equipped as follows: Lilly, President B. Frank Mebane, capital $68,500, spindles 3,536, looms 276; Rhode Island, President George W. Pratt, capital $25,000, spindles 10,000, looms 140; Nantucket, President B. Frank Mebane, capital $251,800; spindles 11,000, looms 800.

WOULD POSTPONE DATE OF CORPORATION TAX

Flurry in Official Circles Caused by Resolution Introduced by Representative Cullom.

Washington, June 14.—A resolution introduced in the senate today by Mr. Cullom postponing to January 1 the date of the payment of the corporation tax because of the delay of the supreme court in passing on its constitutionality for a time caused a flurry in official circles. The treasury expected to collect $27,000,000 from the tax during the present calendar year, which would be expended for the ordinary business of the government. To be deprived of it would necessitate an issue of 3 per cent certificates of indebtedness or of Panama canal bonds.

Late in the afternoon there was a feeling of relief when the news spread that Mr. Cullom had presented the resolution "by request," and that he did not intend to press it for consideration.

A bill has been introduced in the Cuban house of representatives putting on the free list appliances, materials and fixtures for educational use, as well as all books except those having covers of tortoise shell, ivory or mother-of-pearl.

BROKE DOWN ENTIRELY

Mrs. Talbot Tells About Her
Serious Experiences and How She Broke Down.

Lantz, W. Va.—"It would be hard to tell," writes Mrs. Tebe Talbot, of this place, "how much I suffered. I had been troubled with womanly ailments for some time, and at last I broke down entirely. I had pains all over, and got so weak I could scarcely walk across the room. Then I wrote you, and thanks to taking Cardui, I began to improve right off. Now I do my housework and am feeling well. God bless you and your medicine."

A strong endorsement, isn't it? Thousands of women have written to tell of the happy results they derived from this well-known remedy.

You must believe that Cardui will help you, if it helped all these others. Composed exclusively of purely vegetable materials, with a gentle, strengthening action on the system, Cardui is perfectly harmless to young and old, and can be relied upon to have absolutely no bad after-effects.

It is, therefore, a natural medicine, which you can feel confidence in. A safe, harmless, vegetable remedy, of long known merit.

GEORGIA DENTISTS MEET IN ATLANTA

Address of Welcome to City
Made by Councilman
Foster.

With about 150 delegates in attendance the Georgia State Dental Society opened its forty-second annual convention yesterday morning in the assembly hall of the Piedmont hotel, with President Walter C. Miller in the chair.

Rev. C. T. A. Fise opened the meeting with prayer, after which Councilman P. O. Foster, acting in the absence of Mayor Maddox, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city. Dr. S. W. Foster, speaking for the Atlanta dentists, expressed the pleasure of the local members of the profession in being given the privilege of entertaining their out-of-town brothers. The response to these addresses in behalf of the association was made by Dr. D. D. Atkinson.

The annual address by the president, Mr. Miller, showed a vast improvement in the affairs of the association and a large increase in the treasury.

Owing to a new provision in the by-laws which denies the local members of the association the right to entertain the visiting delegates, the usual social features of the convention came near being suppressed. This provision was finally circumvented, however, by Dr. G. S. Tigner, who moved "that the visiting ladies be tendered a smoker, to which the men delegates also be invited." The motion was unanimously carried and a local committee will provide a buffet supper for this evening.

Among the routine matters which occupied most of the afternoon session, resolutions, framed by special committees, on the deaths of Dr. J. P. H. Brown, of Augusta; Dr. H. R. Jewett, of Atlanta; Dr. D. H. McNeill, of Athens, and Dr. J. Y. Crawford, of Nashville, were adopted by the convention.

The state board of dental examiners held the first of a series of meetings which will last until Thursday on the third floor of the capitol. Among the thirty applications for licenses to practice which the examiners will consider are two from negro women.

TERMS PINCHOT AN APOSTLE OF FALLACY AND IGNORANCE

Washington, June 14.—When the senate today resumed consideration of the public land withdrawal bill, Mr. Heyburn said the proposition to withdraw the public lands for so-called conservation was "a political impertinence on the part of the people of the east." He said that in the great falls of the Potomac there was "enough water power to move every wheel in the District of Columbia."

Conservation should begin at home, he said, and he advised the national government to give its attention to the water power possibilities nearer the centers of population, where they would be made available. Asserting that the government had spent five times more than the receipts in its forestry policy, he said:

"We are drawing on the national treasury to create game preserves and solitudes."

Outlining the pending bill he asserted its purpose to be the withdrawal of all the public lands so as to leave them open only to miners and prospectors.

"And now comes this apostle of fallacy, theory and ignorance, the former forester of the United States, who is reported to be opposing this exception," he said.

Saying the former forester had been in Europe imbibing foreign information "and doing some other things that we know less about," he said that the government experts never had found a mine. The consequence of the forester's policy would be the prevention of the extension of mining in the United States. The result would be, he contended, that in another generation the present mines would be worked out and there would be no more activity in that direction. This, he said, would be the inevitable result of following "this censor of the morals and manners of the people."

Senator Hughes, of Colorado, said the present tendency was towards a feudal system "like that which had disgraced Ireland and made progress in Germany impossible."

Sure Proof.
(From Buffalo Express.)
"Tell me all about it," said the woman who was ill and couldn't attend the wedding.
"Twasn't much," said her husband.
"There was no best man and the bridegroom forgot the ring and had to go back home for it."
"Lucky girl!" she exclaimed, with woman's intuition. "She is marrying a plumber."

DEATH VERY NEAR FOR TWO NEGROES

Prison Commission Refuses to Interfere in Brooks and Merritt Cases.

Unless Governor Brown interferes Fulton county will be the scene of a double hanging next Friday.

The prison commission yesterday declined to commute the death sentences imposed upon Rogers Merritt, the negro sentenced to hang for criminal assault, and Frank Brooks, the negro sentenced to hang for the murder of a servant at the home of Miss Nettie Sergeant on Washington street several months ago.

Governor Brown recently granted a respite to the two negroes until Friday, June 17, in order that the prison commission might have an opportunity to consider the applications for commutation of the sentences.

The case of Rogers Merritt was heard several days ago. Attorneys Gues and Boswell, representing the negro, declared that the evidence did not support the verdict and that the identification of the negro was not sufficiently convincing to warrant the verdict.

Miss Maggie McDermott, the young lady who declared that Merritt assaulted her, appeared before the commission Tuesday afternoon and reiterated her declaration that Merritt is the guilty man.

In pursuance of the policy which he has followed all along it is believed the governor will not interfere with the decision of the commission in the two cases.

Nurses Will Graduate.—Six young women will receive diplomas from the Grady hospital training school tomorrow afternoon at the graduating exercises, which are to be held in the hospital building commencing at 4 o'clock. The graduates are: Misses Lola Catherine Robinson, Elizabeth Gofforth, Eva Tomie Phillips, Bert Holland, Laura K. Chapman, Nettie K. Drake.

In Days of Yore.—The Cockney couple stood before No. 1732 in the National Gallery of Young Masters. "Hawking in the Olden Time" was the name of the picture; but the explanation appeared to convey little to the two spectators.

"Awkin' in the Olden Time," Marie, murmured the puzzling gent, frowning his brows. "Well, they didn't arf do it! Eh—wot? Horseback an' all!"

"Oo-er!" assented Marie. "But wot are they awkin'?"

"I dunno," replied the puzzled gent—"unless they're tryin' to sell them parrots!"

"Best is best, and best will ever live." When a person feels this way about Postum they are glad to give testimony for the benefit of others.

A school teacher down in Miss. says: "I had been a coffee drinker since my childhood, and the last few years it had injured me seriously."

"One cup of coffee taken at breakfast would cause me to become so nervous that I could scarcely go through with the day's duties, and this nervousness was often accompanied by deep depression of spirits and heart palpitation."

"I am a teacher by profession, and when under the influence of coffee had to struggle against crossness when in the school room."

"When talking this over with my physician, he suggested that I try Postum, so I purchased a package and made it carefully according to directions, found it excellent of flavor and nourishing."

"In a short time I noticed very gratifying effects. My nervousness disappeared, I was not so irritated by my pupils, life seemed full of sunshine, and my heart troubled me no longer."

"I attribute my change in health and spirits to Postum alone."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

LIGHT SHOWERS; SLIGHTLY WARMER

Weather Man Is Peeved by Conduct of His Charge.

"Behold, there arose a certain weather prophet who admitted he didn't know anything about it; and all the people sat up and took notice,"

TALKING OF PROHIBITION.

because he was a curiosity in the land."—Proverbs of A Weatherman.

Light showers with a little rise in temperature is the forecast for Wednesday.

That was the weather dope handed out yesterday afternoon by Mr. von Herrmann, superintendent of the local weather factory, after he had diligently perused all the maps and other official data offered him in reaching a decision as to the kind of weather Atlanta may expect.

The weatherman was just about as much peeved at the sudden turn for the worse taken by the weather Tuesday as was any other citizen of Atlanta, and when it clouded up and actually threatened to rain in the face of the fair forecast made by the weather dopest Monday, Mr. von Herrmann bit his pipe stem almost in two before venturing an opinion.

"There is absolutely nothing on which I can place the responsibility for this unsettled weather," he declared. "It looks to me like a frame-up on the part of the elements. Ordinarily I can saddle the trouble on a storm in the Mississippi or Ohio valleys, or over the lake region, but there is nothing doing in either place today. The weather in every locality is docile enough to eat out of your hand."

"A generally unsettled weather condition prevails over Georgia and other southern states, apparently without any reasonable cause, and so long as that condition prevails we may as well expect the worst until the best happens. Just to be on the safe side I am going to forecast showers for today, and, on the side, I'll stake my hat that out of pure contrariness it clears up and gets as hot as a ginger mill."

"Preaching is all right, in its place," remarked the Gopher, but the good old-fashioned idea of practice is a proposition that appeals to me.

"Little Pick"—you know "Little Pick" sure! Well, "Little Pick" was sitting on the porch the other evening arguing prohibition with several lady friends. He was strong on the "dry" dog, mighty strong. He held up his right hand and declared: "No sirree! Not for me!"

"But in the excess of his enthusiasm at making a renewal of the pledge 'Little Pick' leaned too far back in his chair and something hit the floor with a D. S. thud. 'Pick' said he was taking it to a sick friend. Nobody disputed it, but there was a sudden slump in prohibition argument."

Business Men Indicted.

Memphis, Tenn., June 14.—Charging conspiracy to commit larceny, the Shelby county grand jury today returned a joint indictment against Charles Cole, Corbin Dwyer, Hugh Knott and J. K. Prather, well-known business men of this city, already under three indictments, charging theft of $22,000 worth of cotton from the St. Louis and San Francisco system, the Rock Island Railroad Company, and the Illinois Central Railroad Company.

ATLANTA DISTRICT OPENS CONFERENCE

Three Young Men Are Granted Licenses to Preach.

At the first session of the Atlanta district conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, held yesterday afternoon in Wesley Memorial church, Rev. Joel T. Daves presiding, a vast amount of preliminary and routine work was transacted and the way cleared for the more important matters which will be brought up in the sessions of today and tomorrow.

After the roll call and invocation, a special committee for the examination of those applying for licenses to preach reported that the following had acquitted themselves with high honor: Henry Jackson Penn, George Felix Wright and Tumor Bradford Middlebrooks. The three young men were then granted their licenses by the unanimous vote of the conference.

In like manner, J. W. Brinsfield, Walter W. Watkins, G. F. Weisand, T. B. Middlebrooks were unanimously recommended as itinerant preachers, to the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The convention renewed G. W. McElroy's license to preach and recommended him for deacon's orders.

The convention will reconvene at 9 o'clock this morning to consider the renewing of preachers' licenses. The session will last until 11 o'clock, when a preaching service will be held. A luncheon will be served in the church. The afternoon session, which begins at 2:30 o'clock, will be largely devoted to hearing the reports of the pastors and officials of the churches in the Atlanta district. At the 11 o'clock services today Dr. James W. Lee will preach.

Seven committees, appointed by the chair, will investigate the various phases of church work and make reports to the conference on Thursday. The committees and their members follow: The spiritual state of church: Rev. J. R. King, E. L. Graydon, R. E. Stone, W. M. Terry, J. L. Dennis, Sunday schools: E. A. Quillian, W. H. Davidson, Ralph Cooper, W. E. Chatman, American Bible Society: Rev. Olin King, G. H. Sims, B. R. Mountcastle, S. J. Pattillo, S. H. Ogletree, Financial systems: E. V. Carter, J. R. Kuttling, John S. Candler, G. Y. Eegee, W. L. Peel, George Must, Alonzo Richardson. Quarterly conference records: Rev. C. V. Weathers, E. A. Moore, E. L. Treadwell, L. C. McCrory, J. L. Sims, Epworth Leagues: Rev. Felton Williams, F. C. Shannon, W. A. Sanges, Eastern Shore: John S. Candler, S. H. Sogchow University: W. S. Thompson, B. B. Crew, Asa G. Candler, John S. Owens, W. R. Hammond, W. E. McCalla, R. H. McDougall, Missions: George Winslip, T. F. McGahee, J. M. Skinner, E. W. Martin, Walter McElreath, R. J. Guinn, J. C. White.

MONUMENT UNVEILED AT KING'S MOUNTAIN

Dedictory Address Was Delivered by United States Senator Bob Taylor.

Bristol, Tenn., June 14.—The monument erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution to the men who went from the vicinity of King's Mountain was dedicated today at Sycamore Shoals. The dedication address was made by United States Senator Bob Taylor. The monument marks the spot where was negotiated the treaty with the Cherokees, known as the Transylvania treaty.

The monument is of triangular design, with a base four feet of gray Tennessee marble and bearing a shaft 9 feet high of river rock, set in cement. It was built by the combined efforts of three chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sycamore Shoals Chapter, of Bristol; John Sevier Chapter, Johnson City; and Bonnie Kate Chapter, Knoxville.

Body Found Near Tracks.

West Palm Beach, Fla., June 14.—(Special).—The body of an unknown man, who it is thought fell from a train, was found by the side of the tracks near Pompano, this county, by the crew of a freight train this morning. On the body was found $115 in bills, a badge, "No. 1, Key West Fire Department." Inquiries to identify the unknown have failed.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

EDWIN P. ANSLEY.

OWING to the fact that the owner must have the money to put in his business, we have an investment proposition that is certain to interest those who are looking for a real money-maker.

THIS is an apartment house, new, handsome, modern and absolutely up to date in all its appointments and equipment. Never vacant, the present rentals are $522 per month. Figure it out for yourself and you will see that this means a gross return of $6,264 per year, enough to make it pay for itself in seven or eight years.

MORE than this, it is located very close in, right where big developments are now under way and property values are advancing daily. This is an exceptional offer that is well worth your immediate consideration for it is too good to last long.

THE price is $45,000, and we can offer terms.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

GEO. P. MOORE
REAL ESTATE AND RENTING,
9 Auburn Avenue.

IT IS VERY interesting to hear the old-timers tell about sales made on Peachtree and Whitehall streets years ago, when store lots were sold at $6,000 to $10,000. These were considered very high prices, and if you had told the owners of property on these two streets at that time that the price would go to $4,000 per front foot, which it is bringing today, they would have thought that you were a little off in your upper story.

WITH Peachtree and Whitehall streets overflowing, it is perfectly reasonable to believe that it will be a case of history repeating itself with property located within one or two blocks of either of these thoroughfares.

WE ARE offering you today a 20-foot store lot on Houston street, in just a few feet of Ivy street, with the handsome office building going up on the corner adjoining the Elks Club, and the new theater in a few blocks, within 600 feet of Peachtree street and the Candler Building. We believe that it will double your money in the next five years, at the price of $15,000, one-fourth cash, balance one, two and three years, interest at 6 per cent. Buy it and you will find that when the five years roll around that you will be the owner of a very central store lot.

6-ROOM BUNGALOW. 39 Vedado Way—Go out and see this little beauty; built of best material, in one of Atlanta's best neighborhoods. Price $4,500; terms; worth $5,000.

AT 169 CLEBURNE AVENUE. Inman Park's fashionable neighborhood, we have an 8-room, story-and-a-half, attractive bungalow that we can sell on easy terms. Price $5,850.

IT WILL PAY YOU to consult us before buying or building a home, as we handle nothing but the best quality.

MUTUAL REALTY EXCHANGE.

Main 2753. "WE TRADE LOTS." 405-6 Gould Bldg.

$4,500—NORTH SIDE, best section, 12-room, all improvements. Owner says he must sell at once; nice, large lots; rent rooms to meet notes.

WE HAVE SOME COTTAGES, WEST END AND SOUTH SIDE, for cheap price and your terms. Ask us about these.

ON SPRING STREET we have one other building lot, about 60x200, in the heart of the best residence section, that we will sell for one-third cash, balance 1 and 2 years. Spring street dirt gets richer every day.

EAST AVENUE—We have a modern 6-room cottage that cost $3,750, but it must be sold before the 15th of this month. See about this, and tell us what you will do. Make an offer. A north side home cheap.

SOUTH KIRKWOOD building lots, 50x270; level. See them and price 'em on Howard street. A few north side lots at $750.

WEST END, on Gordon st., we have one 8-room, two-story house, on car line and corner, just finished, on nice lot in an oak grove, for $2,450. Within 200 feet of this we have a 7-room cottage for the same price. This is NOT in the country, but on GORDON ST., this side of West View, joining the Davis sub., which is the greatest improvement West End has had.

INMAN PARK building lot, on corner, for $800. Most anything that has to be sold quick at a sacrifice, we have it, because that's our business—"WE TRADE LOTS." What have you got to offer?

WE ARE IN POSITION TO LOAN you any amount of money on real estate security, city, suburban or farm loans; short or long terms.

WE BUY PURCHASE MONEY NOTES at a very low discount. Call on us.

WE MAKE TERMS ON ANYTHING WE ADVERTISE—LET US SHOW YOU.

$350 EACH—Three lots off Highland avenue, short distance beyond the end of car line. This is in a section that is developing fast, and the lots are worth more money now. Would be cheap at $500.

DECATUR and ATLANTA are synonymous terms nowadays. Decatur means the terminus of car line where Agnes Scott (million-dollar) college is located, and where culture and refinement dwell with quiet and contentment. We have here 4 lots, 50x160 to alley, just 100 feet from car line, at $500 each, on terms $50 cash and $5 per month. Also 6-room house and lot, 100x160, on car line, at $2,500; half cash, balance easy.

KIRKWOOD, midway between Atlanta and Decatur, we have a beautiful 5-acre tract and 9-room house for $10,000; easy terms, and a good buy.

BUCKHEAD LOTS—We have several choice propositions in this town and surrounding country. "Watch Buckhead grow." 15 acres on Plaster Bridge road that will double someone's money.

150 ACRES, near the M. and M. Club property, at $75 per acre. This is good to keep. 30, 15, 20 and 5-acre tracts in northern part of country.
